Chiang Says He Expects U. S. Aid In 'Crucial Moment'

BY JAMES CARY

Taipei — (AP) — President Chiang Kai-shek said today his nationalist air force will bomb the communist guns ringing Quemoy when and if the "crucial moment arises." He added he felt the United States would back him if that time came.

He said this moment would come when the lives of the 130,000 troops and civilians on the outpost fortress are in danger either from the effects of the communist artillery blockade or other military action.

"When the crucial moment arises I feel the United States will not fall back on its promises to help," he stated, "but the crucial moment has not yet arisen."

"But we will act on our own regardless (of the U. S. attitude) when it comes a question of life and death."

Not barred by U. S. He emphasized nationalist China is under no obligations to the United States that would prevent it from taking any action it feels necessary for its own defense.

Chiang spoke at his first open news conference since Feb. 7, 1955.

Alert and smiling, he also made these points:

Nationalist China is following a policy of restraint in the face of "heavy losses" by Quemoy's civilians and soldiers.

It might agree to a United Nations debate on the Formosa crisis under certain conditions.

The red artillery blockade has been rendered temporarily ineffective by air drops and sea supply efforts.

There will never be any need for U. S. ground troops to help defend Quemoy.

Islands Shelled

Chiang spoke as the Chinese reds carried their artillery assaults against the Quemoy islands into the thirty-eighth day with a relatively light shelling. By nationalist defense ministry count, 1,009 shells were fired on the islands up to midday today, and 4,552 on Sunday.

With communist shells flying about, nationalist cargo planes dropped supplies on little Taishan island for the first time and on Quemoy for the sixth straight night, correspondents reported Sunday night. Another nationalist convoy shoved supplies to the islands by ship despite red barrages.

Thinks Quiz Show Was 'On the Level'

New York — (AP) — a big-money winner on the television show "21," questioned today in an investigation of TV quiz programs, said so far as he knew the show was "completely on the level."

David Mayer, a psychologist who won $47,500 said he had never been given questions or answers in advance of his appearances, and that he knew of no coaching of any contestants.

He made his comment to newsmen after being questioned by Assistant Dist. Atty. Joseph Stone.

A grand jury is probing charges of rigging on TV quiz shows.

"Twenty-One" participants — Herbert Tsemple and James Snodgrass — have claimed they were fed answers to upcoming questions.

Menon Seeks Nationalist Withdrawal

United Nations, N. Y. — (AP) — Indian Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon was in the open today with his view that the Chinese nationalists should get out of the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

On a Washington television program yesterday, he said peaceful evacuation of Quemoy would mean "the Quemoy problem is settled" and the nationalists and Chinese communists then could negotiate a settlement of their conflicting claims to Formosa.

Diplomats and others at the U. N. recognized this as the line Menon has been promoting privately at the U. N. General assembly, where he heads India's delegation.

Grave Situation He told television interviewers the situation in Formosa strait, where the communists are shelling Quemoy, was one of extreme gravity that could engulf the world in flames.

He said the communists should be persuaded to "permit" peaceful evacuation of the islands now under shell-fire, and nationalist President Chiang Kai-shek "must be told that in no manner is the United States going to assist him in any war adventures."

Indonesia told the U. N. General assembly today Quemoy and Matsu islands were for communist China "a matter involving its national security and integrity."

Indonesian Delegate Ali Sastroamidjojo said "no self-respecting government can allow its ports to be blockaded, its shipping interfered with, and its coastal islands transformed into arsenals for purposes of provocation and even invasion."

In another Washington television interview nationalist Chinese Ambassador George Yeh said the nationalists "do not intend to make any concessions" to the Chinese communists. He added the communists could be checked "if you do not yield any ground."

Resume Talks At Chrysler

Reuther Orders Wildcat Strikers To Return to Jobs

Detroit — (AP) — Walter Reuther resumes his efforts today to get a quick contract settlement with Chrysler Corp. as a follow-up to the back-to-work order he issued Sunday to wildcat strikers at Chrysler and General Motors.

Reuther moved back a strike deadline against GM from Tuesday to Thursday in order to get thousands of premature strikers at GM plants back on the job.

"We have made it clear that these people who thought they were helpful really are hurting us," Reuther said. "We are confident they will see the wisdom of all GM workers going back to work so we can negotiate in a more peaceful climate."

Reuther's dramatic order to the 250,000 UAW members at GM to stay on the job came after a week in which the company reported its attempt to get full speed ahead on production of 1959 models was hampered by the strikes and some resultant plant shutdowns. GM on Saturday listed 45,000 idle at 20 plants across the nation.

Some 41,000 UAW members went back to work at GM and Chrysler plants today and a union spokesman said the move probably would continue.

High Court Bans 'Evasive Action' to Keep Segregation

Forbids Leasing of Public Schools to Private Groups

Washington — (AP) — The supreme court declared today states cannot resort to "evasive schemes" to continue racial segregation in schools. Thus it dealt a blow to such plans as those calling for leasing public schools to private groups.

The unanimous opinion of the high tribunal was handed down shortly after a plan to lease four closed high schools to private organizations was set afoot in Little Rock, Ark., where Gov. Orval Faubus has been opposing immediate racial integration at Central High School.

Today's opinion elaborated on the court's Sept. 12 decision that desegregation must proceed forthwith at Central High. It went further and aimed blows at what it termed schemes to get around its stand that racial segregation in schools is unconstitutional.

Can't Nullify Rights

The rights of children to be free of discrimination in admission to schools "can neither be nullified openly or directly by state legislators or state executive or judicial officers, nor nullified indirectly by them through evasive schemes for segregation whether attempted in ingenious or ingenuously," said the opinion read by Chief Justice Warren.

Without naming names, the opinion also declared that no state official "can war against the constitution without violating his undertaking to support it."

Racial segregation in schools was first outlawed in 1954, and in 1955 the court declared it must be ended with "all deliberate speed."

Today it spelled out, to a certain degree, what it means by deliberate speed. In effect, it sanctioned delay in some cases, provided local authorities

Homes Razed By Rio Grande

Floods Swell River to Width Of 3 to 4 Miles

Presidio, Texas — (AP) — The Rio Grande, a swollen monster 3 to 4 miles wide, crumbled homes as it swept through the Presidio valley of southwest Texas and isolated thousands at border cities today.

New walls of water were expected today from continued deluges along the Rio Conchos in northern Mexico.

About 30 families were evacuated in Presidio and about 10 adobe houses on the U. S. side of the river crumbled from the water. Many more houses were reported crumbled on the Mexican side and one man was reported drowned there.

Railroads Cut The river, normally 4 feet deep here, hit more than 17 feet yesterday, 1.19 feet higher than the record 1932 flood.

The water washed away about 1,000 feet of Santa Fe track, cutting rail connections to northern Mexico. Furniture and mattresses floated down the river from homes washed away on the Mexican side.

Despite continued rains, the river started to fall last night and continued falling today.

At least one case of attempted looting was reported here. More than 16,000 were isolated in the Ojinaga area on the Mexican side. Pemex, the Mexican government oil company, flew in milk and baby food. Fuel and gasoline were reported running low in the Mexican town.

Reports from Falmour, about 80 miles into Mexico on the Rio Conchos, said that the river was the highest ever recorded and was still rising.

Seaman Falls Into River and Drowns

Chicago — (AP) — A seaman from Superior, Wis., slipped and fell into the Calumet river today and drowned.

He was John Shaw, 33, Superior, a member of the crew of the McGean, an ore carrier. The boat was moored in a slip of the Wisconsin Steel Co. and was unloading iron ore.

Nuclear Weapon Exploded 1,500 Feet Above Earth

Atomic Test Site, Nev. — (AP) — A nuclear test weapon exploded with shattering impact today over the atom blasted sands of the Nevada proving ground.

The device, packing half the power of the A-bomb that leveled Hiroshima in World War II, was detonated while hanging from a balloon anchored 1,500 feet in the air.

The explosion outshone the rising sun and sent a heavy shock wave rumbling across the desert.

Newsmen clustered on a hill 10 miles away felt the jolt clearly. Light winds carried the fallout from the mushroom cloud directly toward the observer's post. Forecasters had warned of this and told all newsmen to leave the hill within 10 minutes of the blast.

The test was the second in the current series being conducted by the atomic energy commission. It has been postponed twice. President Eisenhower has proposed a one-year ban on nuclear tests after the completion of the current series next month.

The People Speak

Trend Shows More Republicans Shifting to Democratic Votes

BY SAMUEL LUBELL

A strong but uneven Democratic tide is surging through the country.

Although this trend varies considerably with economic conditions in each of the 15 cities and 13 farm counties that I visited during the past two months, I found 1-time Eisenhower supporters planning to shift to Democratic candidates.

By far the heaviest break is coming in working - class neighborhoods, particularly among younger workers. Of the Eisenhower voters who are under 35 years of age, whom I interviewed, nearly half said they intended to vote Democratic this fall, while many more were undecided. This dramatic change among the younger generation is primarily a recoil from the recession. Overburdened with debt for new homes and autos, as many of the younger workers were, and with little senlarity to hold their jobs, they have been perhaps the one element in the population hit hardest by the economic downturn. In contrast, the Republican appeal is holding fairly well among those unhurt by the recession. Among white-collar, pro-business voters questions on the recession often bring the response, "What recession? There is none." Or, "There had to be some levelling off some time."

In Dallas and Charlotte, N. C., this middle-class solidarity may prove strong enough for the Republicans to hold the congressional seats there, despite Little Rock.

Benson Liability

Among the farmers west of the Mississippi, Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson remains a prime liability, although his unpopularity has been eased by good crops. Also, some midwestern Republicans are showing themselves more popular politically than is the president because of their known opposition to his farm policies. Viewed across the country

DeGaulle Gets Backing Of People

BY GEORGE MACARTHUR

Paris — (AP) — Premier De Gaulle has won his fight. Returns from the most sweeping referendum in French history today gave him a resounding personal triumph and a strong constitution for a new fifth republic.

The fifth republic will be proclaimed in the official journal next Sunday. France will enter into a new, more powerful system of government so daring that many Frenchmen gasped at the conception while they voted their approval by a landslide yesterday.

Voters of continental France approved the new constitution by a margin of almost 4-to-1. Complete official tabulations in France showed 17,686,828 "yes" votes and 4,624,475 "no" votes. There was a record turnout of 84.9 per cent of France's registered voters.

Counting all those who sent to the polls, including some who cast blank ballots, the new constitution was approved by 78.5 per cent.

Single Exception

With one exception—French Guinea in West Africa—the overseas lands of the erstwhile French empire also backed the constitution to the hilt. This set them up with France on the world political stage as a "French community," a sort of global confederation, with commonwealth status and even independence waiting in the wings.

Even the "no" vote of independence-minded Guinea, on a steamy stretch of the west African coast made little impression in the general outpouring of approval that exceeded even the most optimistic estimates.

The landslide raised the prospect that De Gaulle, the 67-year-old World War II hero restored to leadership in a rightist uprising last May, can almost write his own ticket to cure the sicknesses of this long ailing country. Chief of these is the 4-year-old Algerian rebellion.

Blow to Reds

De Gaulle probably will become president, with powers that no French chief of state has enjoyed since Emperor Napoleon III was overthrown in 1870.

In the interval France has deliberately maintained a strong legislature and a weak executive.

De Gaulle's dramatic victory was the worst electoral black eye the communists have suffered in postwar France. The communists formed the largest bloc campaigning against De Gaulle's constitution. They said it would open the way to dictatorship.

Gaullist leaders hailed the results as a decisive blow to the reds, who have hamstrung French politics with disruptive tactics and the big-

Elderly Widow Perishes in Fire

Tomahawk — (AP) — An elderly widow died when fire swept her frame home early Sunday despite the rescue efforts of two sons and a neighbor.

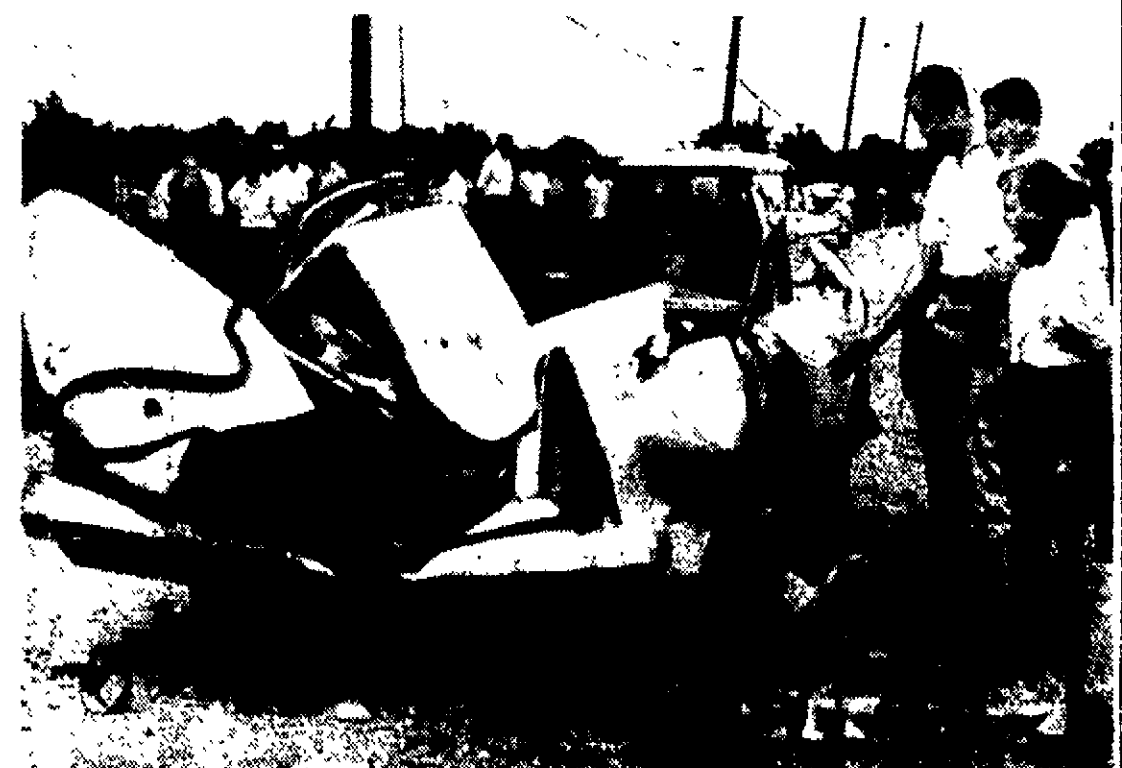

The body of Mrs. Mary Peters, 85, of the town of Wilson near here, was found on the floor of a bedroom in which she ordinarily did not sleep. Her would-be-rescuers tried in vain to find her in her own smoke-filled bedroom.

Her son, Elmer, with whom she lived, was visiting friends at a home one quarter of a mile away when the fire broke out. Henry, another son, lived next door to his mother. With George Sadoff, a neighbor, they entered the home and searched for Mrs. Peters, but were driven out by flames and smoke.

Firemen from Tomahawk found the body later. The 8-year-old house was destroyed. Cause of the fire was not determined.

Call Renewed For Far East Inquiry

Sens. Humphrey, O'Mahoney Link Demands With Criticism of Nixon And Charge of Internal Sabotage

Washington — (U) — Two congressional critics have renewed their call for a searching inquiry into the Eisenhower administration's Far East policy involving Quemoy.

Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) and Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) linked their demands with criticism of vice President Nixon and his weekend charges of sabotage within the state department.

Both Nixon and Secretary of State Dulles sought to discount the significance of mail received by the state department opposing current Far Eastern policies. Nixon called reports of unvalued reports on the mail "the patent and deliberate effort of a state department subordinate to undercut the secretary of state and sabotage his policy." He did not name the subordinate.

Fear of War

State department officials said in reply to queries that about 5,000 letters on the subject have been received, many of them expressing fear that war may break out. But they said published reports that 80 per cent of the letters were critical were exaggerated. They gave no alternate figure.

Dulles said yesterday he was not surprised at the volume of critical letters, and said mail "is not terribly significant" in determining U.S. policy. He declined comment on Nixon's statement.

Nixon said he is confident the American people will support the administration policy when they realize what is at stake. This, he said, is not the Nationalist - held islands of Quemoy and Matsu off the China mainland, nor the Nationalist headquarters island of Formosa, "but the whole free world position in the Far East."

Nixon said the expression of people's opinions, by mail or otherwise, can be constructive and helpful "but it can never be considered the decisive factor in determining the course of policy."

Not Fully Informed

He noted that many letter writers are not fully informed, and said a leader must lead public opinion, not just follow it.

Both O'Mahoney and Humphrey criticized Nixon's stand. "I think the charge the vice president made indicates the confusion of purpose which has marked the action of the secretary of state from the beginning" of the Formosa crisis, O'Mahoney said. "There ought to be a full and searching inquiry."

Humphrey said Nixon apparently doesn't know what the people are saying and thinking. He said Dulles and his associates should be called before a special meeting of the senate foreign relations committee "to explain how we got into this jam."

Hopes Rising For Success of Formosa Talks

See Conciliatory Attitude in Talk By Red China Boss

Washington — (U) — Hopes soared here today that statements from Washington and Peking had given a new lease on life to the Formosa talks and eased war threats.

The Warsaw talks between U. S. Ambassador Jacob Beam and Chinese communist envoy Wang Ping-nan entered their third week today. They held their fifth meeting here tomorrow.

Among developments which diplomats here considered conciliatory was the declaration by red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai yesterday that the red Chinese "do not give up their efforts to find a solution to the dispute between China and the United States through peaceful negotiations."

Complete Disaster

That was what the diplomats had left after they had stripped away much anti-American verbiage from Chou's Peking broadcast. Among other statements he said communist China would lead the United States to "final and complete disaster" if the United States insists on provoking war.

Postponements of any Washington announcement on the details of the closed-door talks beyond the date such an announcement had been expected here also was taken by the diplomats that the highest quarters expected new developments.

It had been reported that if Washington became convinced the talks were fruitless the United States would disclose the details and take the case to the United Nations.

France Cutting Off Aid to French Guinea

African Country Fails to Go Along in Vote for Proposed Constitution

Paris — (U) — France is cutting off economic aid to French Guinea, the only overseas territory to vote for independence in Sunday's constitutional election.

A commune said French administrators will be pulled out of the little aluminum-rich country in Africa's west coast within two months.

The notice that the Paris government is ending French credit for economic development was handed to Guinea's premier, Sekou Toure, in the capital of Conakry by Jean Risterucci, the French governor.

Against Constitution

Without mentioning the word independence, which Premier de Gaulle promised, any overseas territory voting against his new constitution, the commune specified "that the responsibilities be the French state revised."

Noting that the voters of Guinea had refused to accept the constitution, the commune said Guinea "finds itself separated from the other territories of French West Africa which have approved the constitution."

The French said that in order not to disrupt the administrative and financial functions of the territory, the French officials there will remain at their post for the time being.

Latest Tabulation

The latest tabulation of votes in Guinea showed 573,470 in favor of the constitution and 15,551 for it. This represented nearly half of the registered voters.

Guinea was apparently the only one of France's vast holdings abroad to vote for independence. Even Niger, which had been in the doubtful column, and Senegal, which had given de Gaulle a hostile reception on his recent African tour, voted in favor of the constitution.

Missionary Says He Was Treated Well

Algeris — (U) — An American Methodist missionary who spent nine weeks in the hands of Algerian nationalists rebels said today he was always treated well and that his life was never in danger.

The Rev. Lester E. Griffith, 33, Rev. Griffith Cleveland, Ohio, told a news conference here 36 hours after his release "no one ever told me my life was in danger. I was always treated well and with respect."

U. S. consulate officials announced he was turned loose in good health Saturday night at Mekhla, 75 miles east of Algiers, in the Grand Kabyle mountains.

The mountains, a rebel stamping ground, had become thick with French troops escorting voters and guarding polling places in the weekend referendum on the Premier de Gaulle's new constitution.

Restored to his wife and three children, the 33-year-old missionary rested today in undisclosed quarters from the ordeal.

Arabs Will Fight If Israel Attacks Jordan, Says Nasser

Cairo — (U) — President Nasser has told an interviewer the United Arab Republic "will not hesitate to intervene" should Israel attack Jordan.

The statement was made to R. K. Karanjia, editor of the Blitz News magazine of India, in a recent interview released for publication by the United Arab Republic information department.

Asked whether he considered an Israeli attack imminent, Nasser was quoted as saying: "I expect an Israeli attack on the Arabs at any moment. Missing Man's Invention May be Worth a Fortune

Hollywood — (U) — A missing engineer may have walked out on an invention worth a fortune.

Elmer C. Meukel disappeared from his home here June 22, broken and discouraged by long, unrequited efforts to market an electronic device for preventing midair collisions.

Now an engineering firm that Meukel contacted before he left said the government is willing to put $5 million into developing the device, with 3 per cent, or $150,000 going to Meukel.

Keen Interest

Parts of the prototype he built have been found at the home of a friend. They have been turned over to police for safe keeping. But Meukel took other parts with him.

Dr. Fred Haglestein, vice president of Polaroid, engineering corporation of Los Angeles, said defense department officials have expressed keen interest in the invention.

"It will see anything approaching an aircraft from any quarter and will automatically divert the aircraft to avoid a collision," he said. "It is imperative that we find Meukel."

The story of Meukel's struggle against debt and discouragement was told yesterday by his wife, Mrs. Jean Meukel, mother of three small children.

"Things just piled up on him and he couldn't stand

59 of 81 Ballistic Firings Successful, Space Pioneers Say

Scientists Insist That No Test Of Weapon Can be Called Failure

Washington — (U) — United States missile designers and space scientists have now fired at least 81 ballistic weapons and launching vehicles in flight tests conducted at the Cape Canaveral, Fla., center. The services list 59 of these firings as entirely successful, a rest divided between partial successes and failures.

Navy's Vanguard

These figures do not include the navy-handled Vanguard satellite attempts, which now tally one success in seven tries.

The weaponeers and scientists insist that in almost no instance is a test a complete hand-built. The cost would be and utter failure. Even though the missile may never rise more than a few thousand feet, the scientists claim they accumulate a mass of data of high value for subsequent launching efforts and design.

The tests rated as completely successful are largely those as measured by the public's eye, the scientists say — the times when a missile flies the full, intended distance and hits in the prescribed "impact area."

What's The Cost

How much do these tests cost? The defense department says it is impossible to produce a precise dollar figure because so many factors are involved. About a year ago when testing was beginning to move into substantial numbers, the guess was that an average test might cost about $3 million. Into this broad estimate went such items as a share of the cost of building the test facilities, maintenance, operation of the site and the cost of the missile.

Ballistic missiles are only now coming into mass production. The first ones tested, and even many of those now being tested, are virtually hand-built. The cost would be and utter failure. Even though the missile may never rise more than a few thousand feet, the scientists claim they accumulate a mass of data of high value for subsequent launching efforts and design.

Trend Shows Voter Shift To Democrats

The Democratic trend is heavy enough so there seems virtually no chance the Republicans can recapture control of either the house of representatives or the senate. However, it is too early to concede the Democrats a landslide of 1936 proportions, as some observers have done. On many important issues the voters are almost evenly torn between conflicting emotions. Effective campaigning could bring about a fairly closely fought election. Thus far my interviewing indicates that the issues winning votes for the Democrats are mainly economic in origin. The recession has given a new razor sharpness to the old anti-business hostilities, which were dulled in the earlier years of the Eisenhower administration.

Workers Angry

Particularly in states such as Ohio, California and Indiana, where right-to-work laws are at issue, many workers start of my travels I found angrily protest. "The Republicans are out to bust our unions."

Other families are rebelling against the rise in living costs of the last two years and continued "giveaways" to foreign countries. Even hitherto stalwart Republicans are breaking because "the Republicans are just as big spenders as the Democrats."

In San Francisco a manufacturer's agent who retired at the first of the year explaining "I've been a Republican all my life but not any more. I used to think the Republicans were against spending, but right now both parties are for inflation. I'll vote for the man."

Another major cause of Republican losses is a mounting concern over the president's health and vigor. Even staunch Republicans are asking, "Who is running the country?"

The Sherman Adams affair seemed to have caused relatively few voting shifts. At the start of my travels I found most people felt Adams should be dismissed, but hardly anyone planned to change parties because of the way he might have conducted himself in his bor unions be brought under some form of control, and a sense of gratitude—which the China crisis has strengthened—that "Eisenhower has kept us out of war."

One of the few Democratic voters shifting to the Republicans, for example, was a retired man in New Haven, who felt "when it comes to war the Republicans can work it out better."

Again in Dayton, Ohio, an unemployed mechanic declared, "It's better to be working less than have a boom brought on by war."

Although the Republicans are everywhere on the defensive, one gets the feeling that their potential strength is much greater than the voting trend indicates. In fact, the Republican voting forces today seem like a leaderless army. They lack focus or direction. Surprisingly large numbers of voters complain, "We don't know what the Republican party stands for."

Whether at this late date the president can answer that question may make the difference between a route and a close election.

Subtle Changes Seen in TV's Family Show

'Father Knows Best'
Now on CBS Network
With Same Actors

BY CHARLES MERCER
New York —(AP)—Whenever our favorite television father, Robert Young, visits New York we try to drop around and pay our respects and see what's new with the Anderson family of Springfield, U.S.A. One new thing this season is that "Father Knows Best" has moved to another network—CBS-TV.

Family Growing Up
Another new thing is that the kids are getting older—and Father doesn't like to think about that. Maybe, he confesses, because it means that he's getting older too. "We'd thought some of marrying off Betty this season," Young said recently. "She's 20, you know, and a college sophomore. But we decided to wait. What you'll see this year are barely perceptible changes."

"Betty will be inclined to be more selective in her boy friends. Bud—let's see, he's 17 and a high school junior—is changing subtly, too, from sheer terror of girls to a vaguely morbid interest in them."

"And Kathy—she's 12 and going into seventh grade—wants to be more of a friend to a boy and less inclined to try to beat him at baseball."

"We also plan to introduce more outside characters this year and base the family and the programs around them. It will enable us to do more scenes outside the home."

Jane Wyatt plays Young's wife in the TV series and their children are Elinor Donahue, Billy Gray and Lauren Chaplin.

Producer R. V. Lee Back in Harness

Hollywood —(AP)—Producer Rowland V. Lee is reversing the trend of shooting big costume pictures abroad. He's filming Lloyd Douglas' book, "The Big Fisherman" right here.
"The Big Fisherman" will cost about $4 million. Not bad for a guy who has been absent from the producing scene for 13 years.
"I quit after I made 'Captain Kidd,'" the veteran producer-director said in his studio office. "I just felt that I had enough. There were too many 'big men' in the movie business, I decided. Too many people who wanted to join the army as generals."
The movie maker didn't remain idle. He wrote musical comedies and plays, had one producer in the east. He also rented his impressive San Fernando valley ranch for filming locations, the most notable being "The Friendly Persuasion."
It seemed nothing could lure him back to the industry, he had been in since the early silents.

(Among his credits: "Cardinal Richelieu," "The Three Musketeers," "The Count of Monte Cristo.") Then he started thinking about "The Big Fisherman."

Actress Jane Copeland Has Busy Time Ahead

New York —(AP)—Joan Copeland, actress sister of playwright Arthur Miller, is getting busy suddenly.
Cast in a Broadway prospect, "The Dragon, Slayer," Miss Copeland found herself summoned to replace Piper Laurie in "Handful of Fire," also Rialto-bound; and arrangements were worked out for the transfer.
Absent from the White Way for several seasons, she appeared last year in a revival of Noel Coward's "Conversation Piece."

'Private' Schools Will be Blocked by Courts

So far the main evasion of integration orders in southern schools has been to set the stage for declaring the public schools private institutions and thereby able to refuse students upon any grounds including that of color. Arkansas and Virginia are in the process of carrying out this type of plan. Several other southern states have passed laws enabling their state governments to act in such a fashion.

And yet decisions of recent years in federal courts and the supreme court would indicate that this maneuver will buy a little time but that is all. The Fourteenth amendment to the constitution states that no person shall be denied equal protection of the laws and has been interpreted also to mean that no state shall deny due process to anyone. Any state agency, therefore, cannot discriminate, and the supreme court has ruled that segregation in schools, buses or other public places is discrimination.

Southern states, attempting to bar Negroes from voting, hit upon control of the primaries as one means, since nomination by the Democratic party is usually tantamount to election in that area. But in 1944 the supreme court ruled that Texas state statutes made the primary there an official part of the voting process and so it had to be open to all qualified voters. A similar case was decided a decade later against the so-called Jaybird Democratic association in Texas, a group which actually was only a front for the Democratic party.

All constitutional provisions and statutes dealing with primaries were thereupon repealed in South Carolina in an effort to divorce the state government from primary elections. But the United States Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit said the primaries nevertheless were still part of the voting process and amounted to state action. And when Virginia, barred from excluding Negroes from Seashore State park, tried to rent it to a private operator, the judge enjoined the state from leasing the property in any way that would operate "directly or indirectly as to discriminate." The park has remained closed ever since.

Authorities in Texas similarly tried to lease a county courthouse cafeteria to a private party who would bar Negroes, but the Court of Appeals of the Fifth Circuit held that the cafeteria was still a state operation and could not discriminate.

In Arkansas, there are plans for a private organization to operate the schools. But tuition probably is to be paid by the state from tax monies, a device which would appear to bring the state into the picture by preceding court interpretations. Moreover, if the school buildings, public property, are to be leased to the organization for anything less than their approximate real worth, the state would definitely be involved. And in Virginia, the governor himself is authorized by state law to open and operate the schools closed upon his orders.

There is small doubt there can be only one outcome to the battle fought in the courts. It is unfortunate that political ambitions of some state leaders have shut their eyes to the gradual plans of many school boards. There may be more delay, but there may also be more violence and more abrupt and comprehensive integration when it does come.

The Kerosene Comeback

That mature — if not elderly — citizen who remembers the kerosene transport chores of his boyhood may be surprised to know that the old-fashioned fuel is not as archaic as he may have guessed as a result of the modernization of home heating and cooking arrangements in the last several generations.

The news from the petroleum industry is that there is a significant boom building in kerosene production, as a consequence of the vastly increasing appetite of the jet airplane industry.

Thus one of America's great industries has come full circle, from kerosene in the 19th century, to gasoline in the 20th, and now back again to the use of kerosene as a source of energy in a dynamic economy and growing country.

The oil which lit the lamps of China and Hometown, Wis., is now being produced in ever larger quantities to fuel the powerful engines of the jet aircraft which soon will take over the commercial aviation industry. One giant airline recently placed an order for four billions of gallons of the fuel, for delivery during the next ten years.

Kerosene is one of those common commodities that have contributed to national history more than most of us are aware. Without it, there might not have been the vital petroleum industry at all, for it was the first form of refined petroleum, well over a century ago.

For most of us, the era of home use of kerosene is long since past. But there must be thousands of middle-aging neighbors among us who remember the barrel safely stored away in the woodshed, well removed from the home, and the daily trips to replenish the oil stove tank. The memory serves as a reminder of the advance of American civilization, for in many parts of the world where economic advances have been slower kerosene remains the household staple that it was in rural Wisconsin 40 years ago. Indeed, the world market for kerosene has held fairly steady over the years, because in the less developed areas of the earth the fuel remains basic in lighting and cooking.

Detroit Fights Polio

Detroit is fighting an outbreak of polio. There has been 440 cases reported in that city and there have been 12 deaths. It is the worst outbreak in the United States since the use of Salk vaccine became general.

What does that mean? How can the people of a great American city fall victims of this disease? Why should there be 440 cases, many of the victims paralyzed and 12 dead when the means is at hand to prevent it?

The answer is simply carelessness and neglect. Salk vaccine is effective, and it is available in quantities. The story is told in the statement of the Detroit health officials. They point out that 30 to 35 per cent of the cases in Detroit are paralytic but that no paralytic cases and no deaths have been reported among the people who had received the full 3-shot treatment of polio vaccine.

There is no claim that the vaccine is 100 per cent effective. But it is highly effective. The 3-shot treatment is the best protection available. Yet there are millions of people in the United States under 40 years of age who have not yet received the necessary shots.

It is not necessary for people to wait for a public drive on vaccination. Everyone has some responsibility for his own health. Parents have responsibility for their children's health. It is little short of disgraceful for anyone in this country to neglect to get this protection for himself or his children.

No Substitute Teacher Remains Heart Of Any School System

When all the talk over educational theory and school finance is ended, one fact remains: There is no substitute for a good teacher.

Plant and laboratory facilities are important. Tested techniques are a big help. Students are essential. But even when all these are present and accounted for, it still takes a good teacher to set the educational process in motion.

All this is something which the Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation has proved to its satisfaction at Neville high school in Monroe, La., where the company has a big plant. This plant needs trained men and women, especially scientists. It was not getting them. It gave Robert H. Evans, vice president and general manager, an idea.

What if the company would give the school board $10,000 to hire an exceptional science teacher? Could he make the difference? The school board agreed to try.

It hired Lon H. Colborn, 61, who had retired from the Pittsburgh school system

Laws and Guns Won't Change Minds of Public

It would be nice if passing a law automatically solved a problem, and if the supreme court's order for immediate integration erased all race prejudice from everyone's mind. Unfortunately humans aren't made that way. Equality of races and school integration are fine ideals but making them work in communities where segregation has been the accepted way for years and where most people believe it is the right way is something else again. We don't believe that laws or guns are going to change their minds overnight.

Job Not Complete When Girl Arrives

Abingdon, Va. — Sam Campbell, ambulance owner, lost a race to the stork and delivered a baby girl at a rural residence. But he got no praise from nurses when he brought mother and baby girl to a hospital — they completed the job by delivering a brother to the little girl. The twins were born 30 minutes apart.

What Others are Saying Government Supports Policy Of Most Cruel Tax-Inflation

From Illinois Farmers' Outlook Letter

Many millions of Americans are paying a heavy, cruel and dangerous tax that has never been authorized by any congress, state legislature or local tax body.

It is a heavy tax because it takes up to half of the income of many people.

It is a cruel tax because it weighs heaviest upon those least able to pay — widows, orphans and older persons who have worked hard to save for their later years.

It is a dangerous tax because it has toppled democratic governments, bred dictators and led to wars and destruction.

This tax is inflation. Some 15 years ago we were urged to buy U. S. government savings bonds. "Invest three dollars and get back four." Many invested — only to find that the four dollars they received brought hardly as much as two of those invested.

Worth Half

Many persons have invested in life insurance, often at considerable sacrifice in their living standard. Policies bought 15 years or more ago now are worth only half what they were expected to be.

Older persons who paid into retirement funds for many years now find that they must live in poverty or on charity of one kind or another.

Inflation helped to crush the south during the Civil war. During the 1920's, inflation in Germany spawned Adolph Hitler and led to World War II.

Inflation is an excess of demand over supply. Spending for goods increases faster than the supply of goods. The result is rising prices — and a declining value of money.

Legislative bodies seldom directly authorize or impose inflation. But they do adopt policies that lead to inflation.

Policies presently promoting inflation are those allowing wages to be raised faster than productivity, and those authorizing government expenditures in excess of receipts.

Labor productivity increases about 3 per cent a year. We permit much greater increases in wages. Consequently prices must be raised to make up the difference. That is simple arithmetic.

When our government spends more than its income, the treasury must borrow the difference. Some of the borrowing is from commercial banks and is simply an indirect way of creating new money. The spending of this money increases the demand for products.

Inflation hurts almost everyone. It cuts the value of life insurance policies, savings deposits, bonds and social security and other retirement credits.

An increasing number of economists, business men, public officials and other citizens are becoming concerned about the increase in this cruellest tax. It seems likely, however, that the public will support inflationary policies for several years at least. We will have to learn the hard way!

Telephone Firm Deals With Yakety-Yakkers

A buzzer sounds on the line after five minutes of yakety yak. A minute later, if the call hasn't been ended, the parties are automatically disconnected.

Pay First, Then Laugh

From The Carolinian, Ky., News Democrat

There were a couple of "bright" boys who snickered when the village's old family doctor drove up in an ancient flivver. "The car's paid for, boys," the old doc said mildly, "but you're not and you're not." He reminded them as he pointed to each.

Looking Backward Election Frauds in New England

79 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Oct. 4, 1879.

Alluding to the results of the Congressional investigations into the manner elections are conducted in several New England states, the Springfield Republican, not a democratic paper, frankly says:

"The bold unvarnished truth stands out boldly in evidence that some of our professedly best men who are prominent manufacturers practically forbid their employees from exercising the right of suffrage free from interference.

"It is a disgraceful state of affairs, but we are forced to the admission that the Federal supervisors were not employed to keep the peace at the polls, but to keep anti-Republican votes away; that these supervisors, instead of preventing fraud, encouraged it by aiding to prosecute all opposed to Republican candidates.

"It is a fact developed by Senator Wallace's committee, that no matter who offered a Republican ballot, it was accepted with no questions asked; whereas some of the best men, socially and morally, and all others who are at all active in opposition to the Republican party, were carefully watched, and their every move dogged by trained spotters."

Joseph Kerrigan was selected to take the place of Alex Sauter on the NRA compliance board as the representative of retail and wholesale employees.

Miss Mary Powell of Milwaukee was secured by the Neenah Y.W.C.A. to fill the position of associate secretary made vacant by the resignation of Miss Helen Greenwood.

Both the Rotary and Lions clubs agreed to cooperate with the Appleton Chamber of Commerce in a series of joint meetings during the fall and winter. Herb Heilig, chairman of the chambers forum committee announced.

Ray E. Norman, Appleton YMCA general secretary was elected secretary-treasurer of the Wisconsin section, Association of YMCA Secretaries.

R. H. Schmidt, vice president in charge of sales of the Four Wheel Drive Auto company, was to be the speaker at the Kiwanis club luncheon at noon Wednesday.

Miss Esther Pickles, executive director of Appleton area Girl Scouts, was to speak at the Wednesday noon meeting of Neenah Kiwanis club.

Moderate South In Slow Retreat

Extremists Attempting to Destroy Middle of Roaders on Integration

BY WILLIAM S. WHITE

Washington—The moderate southern politicians are conducting a slow retreat of immense skill against the heavy pressures of the southern extremists on one flank and the advanced northern Democratic liberals on the other flank.

White

These moderates are the masters of the art of politics in this country, whether one agrees or disagrees with them.

No other set of political men has been in such danger in generations. They are literally and painfully in the middle of the most passionate domestic issue of this century, that of civil rights.

The deep southerners are attempting to destroy these moderates and to head the south into a campaign of total and endless — and hopeless — resistance to school integration. The northern Democratic liberals are not so much trying to end the political lives of the moderates as to wrest control of the party from them.

Field marshal is the senate Democratic leader, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

Chief Lieutenant

The man who will now be perhaps his chief lieutenant has been chosen not from senatorial or congressional ranks and not even from the upper south — where there is at least some present possibility of accommodating the integration issue.

Instead, this new subordinate officer comes from the deepest south. He is J. P. Coleman, governor of Mississippi. Mr. Coleman has just been made chairman of the conference of southern governors.

Skunk Unharmed but Automobiles Suffer

Kenora, Ont. — Glen Wiens of Steinbach, Man., stopped near here to let a skunk cross the road. Robert Sundquist, Keewatin, Ont., driving the car behind, wasn't able to stop and his car was badly damaged. The skunk was unharmed.

Won't Buy Drinks, Man Cut, Bruised

Albuquerque, N.M. — Antonio Elwell, Albuquerque, told police he received his many cuts and bruises when four men pulled him out of a local car and:

Dragged him to the rear of the establishment, beat him up, threw him into a car, roared down a street and threw him out while the car was in motion.

The reason? Elwell said he refused to buy the four a drink.

Both Parties to Reelect
State Committee Heads

Democrat McParland, Republican Yerly
Declare Readiness to Accept Posts Again

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison — Two widely known Wisconsin politicians have indicated that they are interested in holding again the nearly powerless office of chairman of their respective political party state central committees.
Democratic nominees for state office who will serve as delegates to the party platform conventions here Tuesday will rename State Sen. Leland S. McParland of Milwaukee chairman of the statutory state committee. Republicans are expected to return at the same time Everett Yerly of LaCrosse as chairman of their statutory state committee.
McParland acknowledged the nominal position of the office recently when he informed Democrats that his purpose in running again is to continue the inactivity for which he was responsible for the last two years.
Rarely Acts
Probably the most important regular function of the statutory party chairman is to open the biennial platform convention with appropriate remarks.
Only rarely does the committee as such perform official action, as prescribed by law. One such function is to choose candidates to fill vacancies on party ballots, as in the case of the death of a nominee.
Virtually all other organized partisan activity in both parties during recent years has been taken over by the voluntary party organizations, which control all campaign funds and are generally better organized and effective.
Both current party chairmen, however, are widely

WHEN CONCRETE IS THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN LIFE AND DEATH

You're driving home in a drizzling rain. The pavement is soaked. You've traveled this street a hundred times before but—suddenly a child darts out. Your heart leaps. The terrified child falls. You slam on the brakes. Your tires grab the pavement—and they hold! You've stopped short of a heart-breaking tragedy—perhaps only a few inches short—because you were lucky enough to be on concrete.
Concrete is the safest of all pavements. Wet or dry, its gritty texture provides uniformly high skid resistance for quick stops in emergencies. This means extra protection for both drivers and pedestrians.
Remember, no driver expects trouble, but if it comes your chances are much better if you are driving on the safest possible pavement—concrete.

Fox Cities Families Depend Today... More Than Ever Before... On Low Cost Truck Transportation... For Better Living

THE MEN WHO MOVE THINGS

TRUCKING

make the difference in the
FOX CITIES

When somebody wants something fast, that's when these "men who move things" shine!

447 DRIVERS IN THE FOX CITIES travel 30 million miles a year bringing better living to our communities and safety too!

THESE TRUCKS COME IN ASSORTED SHAPES AND SIZES — because modern man has many needs. There are tank trailers for gasoline and milk, closed vans for almost any kind of manufactured goods, low-bed trailers for machinery and road-building equipment, refrigerator vans for perishables, dump trailers, and rack trucks for wool or similar baled goods.

TRUCKS ARE REGISTERED AS EITHER PRIVATE OR FOR HIRE. A private carrier is used by a business, corporation, farmer or individual to carry things for the business, corporation, farmer or individual. A for-hire carrier can be hired to do the job. In the nation, about 85% of all trucks are private carriers. The rest, excluding a fraction which make up the fleet of government trucks, are for hire. Contract carriers are few in number, however, common carriers haul for anyone who wants to hire them.

Big Victory For De Gaulle At French Polls

gest single voting bloc — 148 deputies — in the 596-seat national assembly.

Assembly Rejected
Approval of the constitution automatically rejects the old assembly. De Gaulle now has four months of near-dictatorial powers in which he will write a new election law to seat a new assembly.

The new law certainly won't favor the communists.

Elections probably will probably come in late November or early December.

By generous standards, the communist vote dropped from 20.3 per cent in 1956 to 17.5 per cent Sunday. These figures are arrived at if all the "no" votes are attributed to the communists.

However, this is by no means the case since such prominent middle-rollers as former Premiers Pierre Mendes-France and Maurice Bourges-Maunoury campaigned against the constitution.

De Gaulle heard the election results at his country home in Colombey-les-Deux-Eglises, 150 miles east of Paris. He was reported exuberant.

Confidence Vote
The new constitution makes no provision for the future of Algeria and a heavy yes vote was simply an expression of confidence in de Gaulle personally.

With about 80 per cent of Algeria's vote tabulated, 2,852,951 had voted "yes" and only 94,414 "no." Though nationalist rebels campaigned for abstention, more than four million persons—French and North African—had registered.

This was clouded, however,

Court Bans 'Evasive Action' on Integration

develop good faith plans to put integration into effect as early as possible.

"Of course in many locations," the court said, "obedience to the duty of desegregation would require the immediate general admission of Negro by the fact most of the Arabs and Berbers who make up nine-tenths of Algeria's 10 million population are illiterate and were under pressure from the French army to turn out and vote yes.

children, otherwise qualified as students for their appropriate classes, at particular schools.

Must Speed Action
"On the other hand, a district court, after analysis of the relevant factors (which, of course, excludes hostility to racial desegregation), might conclude that justification existed for not requiring the present non-segregated admission of all qualified Negro children.

"In such circumstances, however, the (district) court should scrutinize the program of the school authorities to make sure that they had developed arrangements pointed toward the earliest practicable completion of desegregation, and had taken appropriate steps to put their program into effective operation."

The court said the 1955 opinion made plain that "delay in any guise in order to deny the constitutional rights of Negro children could not be countenanced."

Further, the tribunal declared, the 1955 opinion made clear that "only a prompt start, diligently and earnestly pursued to eliminate racial segregation from the public schools would constitute good faith compliance."

State authorities were "thus duty bound to devote every effort toward initiating desegregation and bringing about the elimination of racial discrimination in the public school system," said the opinion.

Hits Discrimination
Concerning Little Rock, the opinion said that while the school board was going forward with preparations for desegregating that city's school system, "other state authorities, in contrast, were actively pursuing a program designed to perpetuate in Arkansas the system of racial segregation which this court had held violated the 14th amendment."

Constitutional rights of Negro students seeking admission to Central High, said the court, "are not to be sacrificed or yielded to the violence and disorder which have followed upon the actions of the governor and legislature."

Although there have been three changes in the supreme court since segregation was outlawed in 1954, the opinion declared the court is still solid in its stand.

Justices Agree
The new judges were described as "at one with the justices still on the court who participated in that basic decision as to its correctness and that decision is now unanimously reaffirmed."

The court's 17-page printed opinion said that violence and disorder in the Little Rock situation "followed upon the actions of the governor and the legislature."

"The command of the 14th amendment is that no 'state' shall deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws," the opinion said.

It cited an earlier supreme court opinion in another case that no agency of the state, or the officers or agents by whom its power are exerted, shall deny such equal protection.

Bound by Decision
Anyone who by virtue of public position under a state government denies such equal protection violates the constitution, the earlier opinion said. This opinion was cited with approval in today's opinion.

"In short," the chief justice said for his unanimous tribunal, "the constitutional rights of children not to be discriminated against in school admission on grounds of race or color declared by this court in the Brown case (the 1954 decision outlawing race segregation in the schools) can neither be nullified openly and directly by state legislators or state executive or judicial officers, nor nullified indirectly by them through evasive schemes for segregation attempted ingeniously or ingenuously."

The chief justice said the court wished to answer "the premise of the actions of the governor (of Arkansas) and legislature that they are not bound by our holding in the Brown case." To do this it was necessary to recall "some basic constitutional propositions which are settled doctrine."

Warren said that Article VI makes the constitution the supreme law of the land. War by them through evasive schemes for segregation shall in which the latter declared that "it is emphatically the province and the duty of the judicial department to say what the law is."

Paper Claims Justice Was Aide to NAACP

Asserts Frankfurter Was Adviser Before Taking Court Seat

New Bedford, Mass.—The New Bedford Standard-Times today reported that Associate Justice Felix Frankfurter advised the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People on matters of policy for about 10 years immediately before his appointment to the U. S. Supreme court.

The newspaper also said that "within months after his appointment he wrote a court decision which reversed a ruling by the U. S. circuit court of appeals in a case termed by the 30th annual report of the NAACP as a 'U. S. Supreme court victory.'"

The Standard-Times said in the article that "Justice Frankfurter also has participated in the court's most recent decisions on the school segregation issue, all brought by the NAACP and argued by its paid attorneys."

Based On Letter
The article was based on a letter from Justice Frankfurter in which he answers inquiries from Edward B. Simmons of the Standard-Times staff.

It said the annual report of NAACP for the year 1939 notes that Justice Frankfurter resigned Feb. 14 from the legal committee, "just over a month after his confirmation to the court."

Simmons asked Justice Frankfurter in a letter for comment on references to his NAACP connections made in a book "The Walls Came Tumbling Down," by Mary White Ovington.

The newspaper quoted Justice Frankfurter as replying: "On coming onto the court, I completely terminated my governor (of Arkansas) and legislature that they are not bound by our holding in the Brown case."

To do this it was necessary to recall "some basic constitutional propositions which are settled doctrine."

Warren said that Article VI makes the constitution the supreme law of the land. War by them through evasive schemes for segregation shall in which the latter declared that "it is emphatically the province and the duty of the judicial department to say what the law is."

Milwaukee Road Set With Rail-Highway Transport to Northwest

Chicago — The Milwaukee Road announced it will inaugurate a new and versatile type of rail-highway transportation through its transcontinental line. It will be the first railroad to offer shippers this specialized service to and from the Pacific Northwest.

The equipment consists of specially designed flat cars, light weight trailer units and special highway wheel and axle assemblies known as "bogie." Its use differs radically from earlier types of rail - highway equipment in that the special trailer units slide from their highway wheels onto the flat cars in but four minutes, the operation being simplified by hydraulic lift-tables on the cars which are powered from the highway tractor battery. The system requires no unusual terminal facilities and permits simultaneous loading, or unloading, William J. Quinn, railroad president, said.

Initially the Flexi-Van service will offer complete door-to-door transportation between Chicago - Milwaukee, and St. Paul, Minneapolis, Omaha, and Kansas City. Later it will be expanded to include Spokane, Seattle and Tacoma. The service will join similar New York Central railroad operations and will provide shippers transportation to such points as Boston, New York, Cleveland and Detroit.

Froehlich Not Backing Him, Democrat Says

Zingsheim Wants Public Meeting To Clear Charges

Dick Zingsheim, Democratic assembly candidate, is "unhappy and very angry" over what he calls Republican executive committee propaganda that he is supported by Harold Froehlich.

Talbot Peterson told fellow GOP executive committeemen Thursday night Froehlich and Chris Mullen, defeated Republican assembly hopefuls in the primary, met with Zingsheim and promised him their support.

"I have been approached," said Zingsheim today, "by members of organized labor who also are unhappy that I am supposed to be backed by Froehlich. I am not."

"At no time," Zingsheim went on, "did Froehlich and I ever meet and I suggest or he suggest that he throw his support to me. At no time did Mullen and Froehlich ever meet and discuss their support. The only person who ever said he would support me was Mullen, but that was before he knew (Ald. Kenneth E.) Priebe was running as an independent."

Wants Meeting

"Peterson," said the Democrat, "has suggested that he has information of a meeting of this kind . . . It seems to me all his attempts are aimed at making his candidate look good. In line with this, I might say Froehlich has done more hard work for the party than Peterson ever thought of doing . . ."

To clear the air, Zingsheim said he challenges Peterson, and the others to meet at the Post-Crescent "at any given time and either prove their 'lies' or make a public statement clearing those charged."

Froehlich was reported as supporting Priebe shortly after the primary, but has denied the report.

Mullen, vacationing in Wyoming, is unavailable for comment on Zingsheim's contention. Mullen, however, has told Post-Crescent reporters he is supporting Priebe.

Statutory Committee Will Name Officers

New officers of the Outagamie county Democratic statutory committee for 2-year terms will be elected at a car when he struck the Sauve car headon and then the Schubert car coming east.

Tuesday night, Chairman John Denigan said today.

Froehlich Not Backing Him, Democrat Says

Zingsheim Wants Public Meeting To Clear Charges

Dick Zingsheim, Democratic assembly candidate, is "unhappy and very angry" over what he calls Republican executive committee propaganda that he is supported by Harold Froehlich.

Talbot Peterson told fellow GOP executive committeemen Thursday night Froehlich and Chris Mullen, defeated Republican assembly hopefuls in the primary, met with Zingsheim and promised him their support.

"I have been approached," said Zingsheim today, "by members of organized labor who also are unhappy that I am supposed to be backed by Froehlich. I am not."

"At no time," Zingsheim went on, "did Froehlich and I ever meet and I suggest or he suggest that he throw his support to me. At no time did Mullen and Froehlich ever meet and discuss their support. The only person who ever said he would support me was Mullen, but that was before he knew (Ald. Kenneth E.) Priebe was running as an independent."

Wants Meeting

"Peterson," said the Democrat, "has suggested that he has information of a meeting of this kind. . . . It seems to me all his attempts are aimed at making his candidate look good. In line with this, I might say Froehlich has done more hard work for the party than Peterson ever thought of doing. . . ."

To clear the air, Zingsheim said he challenges Peterson, and the others to meet at the Post-Crescent "at any given time and either prove their 'lies' or make a public statement clearing those charged."

Froehlich was reported as supporting Priebe shortly after the primary, but has denied the report.

Mullen, vacationing in Wyoming, is unavailable for comment on Zingsheim's contention. Mullen, however, has told Post-Crescent reporters he is supporting Priebe.

Kefauver Hits 'Liquidation' Of Family Farm

Tennessee Senator Speaks at Rally Backing Megellas

Post-Crescent News Service
Fond du Lac — Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) visited Wisconsin Sunday, the first Democrat on a growing list of national figures taking part in the state's bustling election campaign.
The Democratic candidate for vice president in 1956 spoke to over 400 at a Sixth district rally for James Megellas, Democratic congressional candidate, held at the old Garrick theater here.
Kefauver criticized the "slo-ganized and Bensonized govern-ment" and claimed the "farm program is liquidating the economic strength of the typical American family-sized farm."

The Tennessee Democrat contended every price support program before congress in the last six years had either been vetoed or killed by a threat of veto.

'Face More Decisions'
"The next session of con-gress will be faced with more decisions on the future of America and the world than ever before and for that reason we need our very best men in the hall of congress," he said, urging support for Megellas.

Megellas pledged his loyal-ty to the small farm opera-tor and pointed out the St. Lawrence seaway would make the Sixth district a world port.

Sharing the platform were Milo Singler, Shlocton, candi-date for Eighth district con-gressman, and Robert Kasten-mier and Gerald Flynn, con-gressional candidates from the Second and First districts, re-spectively, on the Democratic ticket.

Singler claimed Republicans are using the technique of di-vide and conquer. He said the Republicans were setting un-ions, farmers and small busi-nessmen against each other.

First of the national figures to visit the state was secre-tary of Agriculture Benson, who called at Janesville sev-eral weeks ago. Among those still to appear are Vice Pres-ident Nixon, Adlai Stevenson, twice the Democratic presi-dential candidate, Edmund Muskie, Democratic senator-elect from Maine, and Sen. Wayne Morse, Oregon, who is scheduled to speak at Oshkosh Oct. 15.

Recipients of Eagle Badges Sunday afternoon were Richard Gear and David Fritsch, of Boy Scout Troop 54, St. Paul English Lutheran church, Neenah. Richard has the badge pinned on by his mother while his father Hugh Gear, Jr., scoutmaster, far left, and David and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fritsch, look on.

Chairman Says

Chest Goal Challenges All Twin City Donors

BY R. B. SAWTELL
Chairman, 1958 Community Chest Campaign

Neenah — Citizens of Neenah and Menasha are faced with an enormous challenge.

Ever since the Community Chest was organized in the Twin Cities 12 years ago the annual Red Feather drive has never failed to achieve its goal.

This year's united fund drive — the twelfth in the history of Neenah-Menasha — may be the most challenging yet.

The goal set by the Community Chest board of directors for this year's campaign is $121,800. That is the amount of money needed to support the work of ten youth, health and welfare agencies in Neenah and Menasha during 1959.

Give Fair Share
The work carried on by the Red Feather agencies bene-fits every man, woman and child in the Twin Cities — if not directly then indirectly by making our communities bet-ter places in which to live.
If each person gives his fair share I am sure we again will achieve our goal as we have in all previous Red Feather campaigns.

What is a fair share? That is something each individual must decide for himself.

However, this question often is asked the campaign committee and our reply is that the standard contribution is about $2 for each $1,000 of annual income. But it is commonly recognized that a person's ability to give increases as his annual income rises over $5,000.

Remember our slogan: "Everybody Benefits — Everybody Gives."

If every adult citizen in the Twin Cities takes this slogan to heart I am sure we will achieve our goal in this year's Community Chest campaign.

WTA Report Due Tonight

Survey Covers Streamlining Government

Neenah — The city council will meet informally at 7:30 tonight to hear Dr. C. K. Alexander, vice president in charge of Wisconsin Taxpay-ers Alliance research serv-ices, discuss WTA recommend-ations for streamlining Neenah government.

The citizens' organization has filed a 36-page survey of city governmental organiza-tion, similar to the report prepared for Neenah in 1952.

The survey was authorized by the council more than a year ago to study operations of the city government, de-fine responsibilities, and study the possibility of an ex-ecutive budget.

The studies were requested after Neenah's switch to a fulltime mayor created many new problems, aldermen said.

Hemlines Gain Beauty, Lose Length This Fall

Fall fashion this year dic-tates that women's skirts should be long enough to cov-er the knee and short enough to reveal that the calf tapers in. Each individual should choose a length between the two limits that feels best and is most becoming.

Even if you are used to a classic length for all your clothes, now is the time to change if you are fashion-conscious. Today's clothes are designed to be short, sleek and sophisticated. To give this up-to-date appear-ance they must be worn in the correct manner. That is, definitely . . . short.

Hemlines have been altered drastically, too. Cocktail dresses and chic evening gowns seem to float along like bright colored balloons with the tucked-under hem. Clothes take on the shapes of bells.

The trapeze silhouet which caused such a flurry in the spring now shows evidence it might become a classic in women's wardrobes. Small and neat through the shoulders, and bellng out to a short hemline, the trapeze coat, dress or suit are fall favor-ites. All these garments de-mand the shorter hem. With-out them, the outfit will fall flat instead of catching the eyes of smart women and ad-miring men.

Shoes Add Fashion
Shoes too, help greatly to add to the appearance of a well-dressed woman. Slender shoes, sloping to a sharp point make legs look longer.

All things considered this fall, women had better take to the needle and thread or make a quick trip to the dressmaker to rejuvenate the entire wardrobe. If you don't do it now, you'll be embar-rassed when you appear in a long, unfashionable skirt from by-gone days when the rest of the women are up-to-date with hems that have gone up and up. Colorful stockings in red, green, blue, aqua and every shade imaginable complete the fashion-plate picture. To feel right you must look right and to look right, a woman must adapt the changes in the fashion world to herself and her clothes.

Are You Footing The Bill For Careless Drivers?

(You Just Might Be!)

If you're a driver who uses good judg-ment, common sense, courtesy, and obeys traffic laws . . . but are not insured with State Farm, you may be paying too much for your auto insur-ance.

State Farm aims to insure only "care-ful drivers," who have fewer accidents and fewer claims. This lowers insur-ance costs . . . and State Farm passes these savings on to their own policy-holders. So if you think you're foot-ing the bill for careless drivers, get complete information about the many money-saving features of State Farm "Careful Driver" insurance.

Homeland Customs Will be Displayed at Scandinavian Fest

Neenah — "Scandinavians consider food an art," explains Mrs. Harry Swenson, 709 Mitchell street, who is among the women at Our Savior's Lutheran church preparing samples of their homelands' heritage for the "Scandinavian Fest" from 2 to 8 p.m. Thursday.

Mrs. Swenson, of Swedish descent, learned her culinary skills from her mother, grandmother and aunt. Her grandparents brought both her mother and father to the United States when they were very young, but Scandinavian traditions are preserved by the children, who are taught to do things for themselves. "Scandinavian women are beautiful seamstresses," she added, "because they are thrifty and versatile in home-making." Mrs. Swenson does a lot of baking and thinks it is just as easy to mix cakes and cookies from the beginning instead of using prepared mixes.

"Swedish people are very meticulous in following recipes," she hinted, "and they use lots of butter and cream." Many types of fish dishes are served in the northern countries and are given a prominent place on smorgasbord tables.

"Originally 'smorgasbord' meant a table set with bread, butter and coffee," Mrs. Swenson explained, "but now, of course, it is used to describe any buffet table laden with meats, salads, and desserts."

Among the desserts she is making for Thursday's fair are Swedish Rusks (Mandel Skorps). The recipe is:

1 cup butter
1 cup sugar
1 beaten egg
1 1/2 cups sifted flour
1 tsp. baking powder
2 tbsps. milk
1 tsp. vanilla or almond extract.

Cream the sugar and butter, until light and add the beaten egg and flour, which has been sifted with the baking powder. Add milk and flavoring and mix together. Put in two bread loaf pans and bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Cut into oblong strips while the mixture is still warm and place in the oven to dry after the heat has been turned off. Here is the recipe for spritz and rosettes:

1 cup soft butter
2-3 cup sugar
3 egg yolks
1 tsp. almond or vanilla flavoring or 1 cup of grated almonds
2 1/2 cups sifted flour.

Preheat the oven to 400 degrees. Mix ingredients together well and force the dough through cookie presses onto an ungreased sheet. Bake from 7 to 10 minutes until the dough is set but not brown. Decorate with jelly.

Agent Has Hints for Cleaning

Oshkosh — Fall house cleaning hints for homemakers have been listed by Miss Lois Klusmeyer, county home agent. Smart housewives begin their cleaning early in the fall, while windows can still be opened to give the rugs a good airing and speed drying. Most wool rugs can be shampooed with a homemade soap jelly, removing the greater share of dirt. Don't try to shampoo a twist, weave or rug made of paper.

A gallon of soap jelly is necessary for a 9 by 12 foot rug. Combine one part mild soap flakes and five parts of boiling water. Use soft water and don't boil it after the soap has been added. Be sure to use soap instead of detergents. Cool the soap mixture until it jells. This may take an hour in a cold place, but it is a good idea to allow it to stand overnight.

Beat a few tablespoons of jelly to a dry, stiff lather. Dip a brush or sponge into the lather and with a circular motion, scrub a small area of the rug. Continue to lather and scrub the same area as long as the lather becomes soiled.

When an area is clean, wipe it several times with a cloth dipped in warm, soft water and wrung almost dry. Be careful to wipe all the soap out, since it might discolor the rug. Overlap your strokes to prevent streaking as you move from a cleaned area to a soiled one. Leave the windows open and don't walk on the rug until it is thoroughly dry, at least 24 hours.

Late Score Gives Zephyrs 18-13 Win

Balthazor Tallies From Five With About 30 Seconds Left; Newman Connects on 2 Passes

BY GEORGE MANCOSKY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Menasha — Punching over the clinching marker from Brown's point attempt failed five yards out with less than

Rechner Lotzer

30 seconds left in the ball game, St. Mary came from behind to nip Wausau Newman 18-13 here Saturday night. The victory was the Zephyrs' third straight.

The Menashans got their TD march going just after the officials gave both benches the four minute warning. It all started when Wausau, on Menasha's 29-yard line, decided to punt in an attempt to put the Zephyrs deep in their own territory.

The Newman plans took a jolt when Jerry Resch broke through to block the kick and the ball rolled back to the Newman 47. It took the Zephyrs 10 plays, all on the ground, to get the marker. They got five yards the easy way when Wausau was off-side on one of the first plays of the jaunt.

Balthazor Scores
Fullback Tom Balthazor went around right end for the final five yards and the score. Norm Brown's extra point kick failed. Newman had the ball for three plays after the kickoff but the passer was thrown for a loss twice and Brown intercepted a pass on the final play.

Newman only completed three of its 10 passes but two of them went for touchdowns. Oddly, the first score was made with no time remaining in the first half.

St. Mary scored the first time it had the ball. Taking over on the 41 after a punt, Balthazor made three yards on the first play. Ed Lotzer, the outstanding ball carrier of the game, added 13 to the Newman 43 and Balthazor broke away from there for the touchdown. His dropkick attempt for the point was wide.

Zephyrs Penalized
Newman punted from its 5 on the last play of the first half but St. Mary was penalized for roughing the kicker and although time had run out, a half cannot be concluded with a penalty.

Making the most of his opportunity, quarterback Ron Onopa, a real good passer and ball handler, dropped back and pitched to Jerry Dieginski, who got away from everyone to score, the play offering 40 yards. A bad pass from center killed any hopes of getting the kick away and teams made a sweep of their score remained tied 6-6 at halftime.

Lotzer broke through the middle for a 43-yard touch-18-13 conquest of Wausau down run on the third play of Newman, Marinette Catholic the second half to give the Menashans the lead again.

Brown's point attempt failed.

Newman Marches

Newman came up with its best sustained march after the next kickoff. Beginning on its 30, the Cardinals went 70 yards in nine plays to tally. The passing combination of Onopa to Dieginski again clicked for the touchdown, this time from 16 yards out. Tony Tyskiewicz booted the extra point to break the deadlock.

St. Mary rolled all the way to the Newman 13 after the next kickoff but fumbled and lost the ball. The Cards re-proated by going to the Zephyr 30 but spluttered and punted to the 16.

Each team had the ball for three plays and a punt at TD march before the Menashans launched their final 47-yard drive. Lotzer, George Walbrun, Balthazor, Don Karisny and Brown all carried the ball in the series. Key play was Brown's 12-yard scamper from the 17 to the five which set up the score.

Gains 113 Yards

Unofficially, Lotzer gained 113 yards and Balthazor added 64. The Menasha ground attack again was its big suit, accounting for 240 yards. Sophomore Karisny also ran well.

Joe Rechner was another Zephyr stalwart. He caught both of St. Mary's passes for 44 yards, gained 20 yards on an end around and was outstanding on defense. Other defensive stars included Balthazor, Resch, Fran Voissem, Tom Makofski and Don Mislinski.

'Get Away Boy, You Bother Me,' is what St. Mary's Tom Balthazor (8) appears to mean as he stiffarms Jerry Dieginski, Wausau Newman end, in the fourth quarter of Saturday night's game. Wausau's No. 23 is Dick Malak. A touchdown in the last 30 seconds gave St. Mary an 18-13 win.

Oshkosh State Tops UW-Milwaukee 22-0

Malchow Scores on Interception; Carlson Passes to Bob Dosch for Final Titan Tally

Oshkosh — Oshkosh State college, held to a scoreless tie at halftime, came up with three touchdowns in the last two periods to trim the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee 22-0 here Saturday afternoon.

The victory was the third straight of the season for the surprising Titans and their first in Wisconsin College conference competition.

Neenah quarterbacks had a hand in all three touchdowns. Tom Malchow, the starter, was involved in two and his sub, Marv Carlson, engineered the third.

Malchow picked off a Jim Cleary pass on the Milwaukee 30 in the third period, got good blocking and went all the way for Oshkosh's first score. Oshkosh had taken the second half kickoff and moved all the way down to the 16 where it lost the ball on downs. Cleary's pass was the first play. Wayne Belke's extra point kick was wide.

Kunstman Intercepts
A pass interception also set up the second score. Guard Ron Kunstman of Kimberly pilfered the aerial on the Milwaukee 42, after it bounced off a receiver, and returned the ball to the 10.

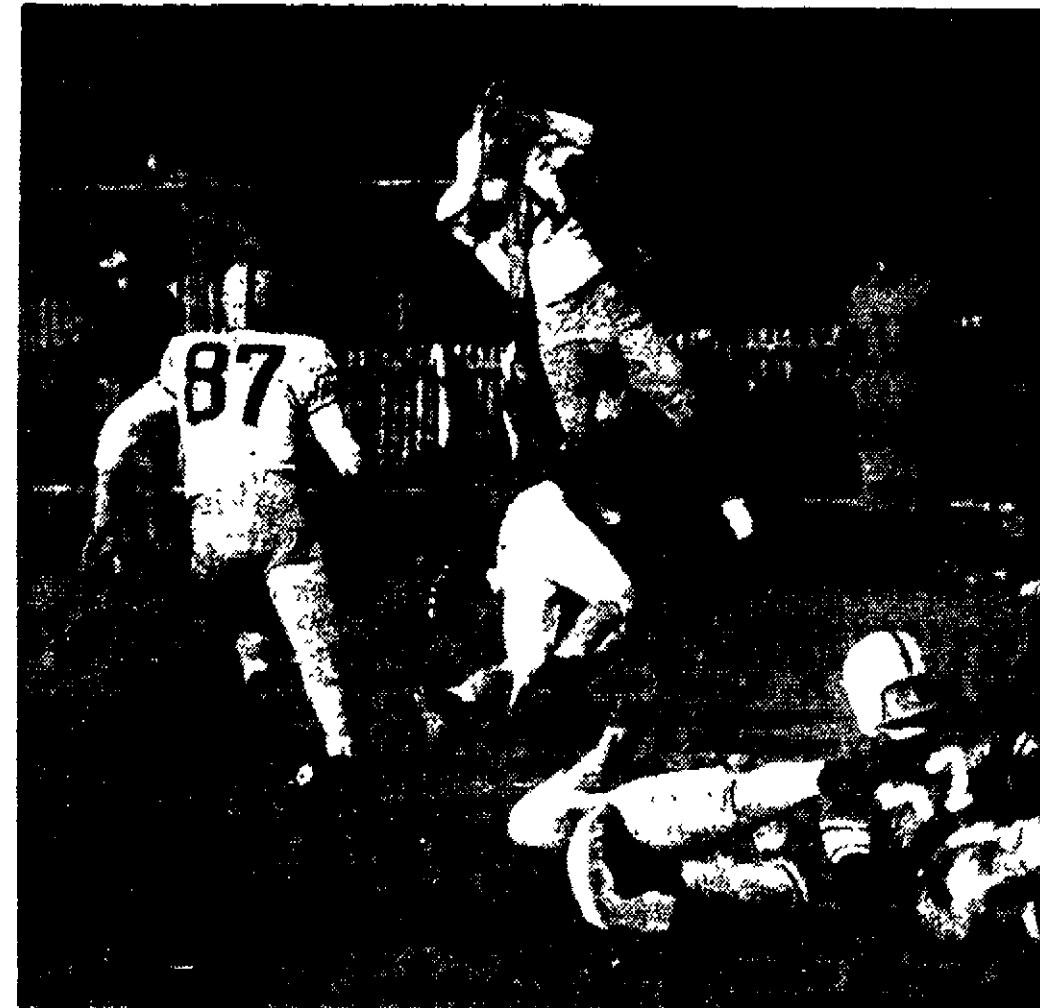

The Titans got a five yard penalty on the first play but on the second Malchow pitched out to halfback Terry Tighe who threw a TD pass to end Bruce Armstrong, former Winneconne High grid star. Malchow passed to end George McArthur for the extra points.

Malchow made a beautiful one handed pass interception on the Milwaukee 27 on the last play of the fourth period but three plays later his pass was picked off by Milwaukee's Les Streff.

70 Yard Play
Early in the fourth quarter, Oshkosh took over on its 28 after a punt and launched the drive for its third score. The first play gained two yards and on the second Carlson pitched to New Holstein's Bob Dosch, and the state college conference's 220 yard dash champion outran everyone for a 70 yard TD play. The same combination clicked for the last two points.

Oshkosh had drives stopped on the 15, 16 and 24 yard stripes in the first half and on the 21 in the fourth.

In addition to Carlson, Malchow, Kunstman and Armstrong, other area players to see action were Neenah's Bob Kerrigan, starting guard; Tom Verkuilen, Appleton end; Harold Nelson, Appleton tackle; Ken Konetzke, Menasha guard; Doug Stern, Clintonville quarterback and Jim Klemp, Clintonville guard. Andy Wittman, senior Menasha end, didn't suit up because of an ankle injury.

Marguerite Schumann Sings Splendidly in Recital Season Opener

BY DOROTHY DRAHEIM

Miss Marguerite Schumann, soprano, opened the 1958-59 recital season at Lawrence Conservatory of Music Sunday afternoon, singing to a capacity audience of musicians and patrons of that art, all of whom the singer can count as personal friends.

She faltered not nor flattered, but sailed splendidly through a substantial program that ended, musically, on a high B-flat.

Capably accompanied by Clyde Duncan, chairman of the piano department at the conservatory, Miss Schumann provided her audience with a thoroughly delightful collection of arias, lieder, Italian and gypsy songs that she herself would probably admit were chosen with that "schmalzy" sense of history in mind.

Miss Schumann herself might call the "das und der" group. "Zickeltanz" was wonderful, marked with its agility of melodic line, the zippy quality of the German words, and the crisp clarity of the accompaniment.

The aria from "Andrea Chenier" by Giordano and the Italian songs, including one by Mozart, were things of sheer beauty. Melodies were spun to exquisite endings above that solid underpinning of harmonies characteristic of the writings of singers of romance in any of several centuries.

Tribute to Leaders

Miss Schumann had the imagination or wit and the vocal ability to exploit the nuances of these songs when the temptation to belabor their sentiment might be understandable.

The program closed with four "Gypsy Songs" by Dvorak, a trampoline-kind of music if there ever was one, demanding vocal exuberance or threatening melancholy. Miss Schumann offered no encores but instead paid tribute to Carl J. Waterman, until recently dean of the conservatory, and to Marshall Hulbert, dean of the college and singing Handelian arias just off-hand. The "Sveglia Nel Core" from Giulio Cesare, running the gamut from a plea for vengeance to a pathetic pleading for understanding, has its moments of histrionics and calls for a sustained power to which Miss Schumann was quite equal.

Grieg's Folk Songs

The first group ended with "Let Me Wander. Not Unseen," from Handel's L'Allegro, gay, free in spirit, and yet, as Handel would have it, demanding plenty of substance in every phrase.

The second group, songs by Edward Grieg translated into German from the original Norwegian, were those Miss

Capable Musician

Miss Schumann is well-known to be expected to sing a good program very well.

She is capable of a thorough-going self-discipline; she is a discriminating musician with an intelligent understanding of vocal art and music, and she is a good judge of her own capacity. One doesn't sing Handelian arias just off-hand. The "Sveglia Nel Core" from Giulio Cesare, running the gamut from a plea for vengeance to a pathetic pleading for understanding, has its moments of histrionics and calls for a sustained power to which Miss Schumann was quite equal.

Distraught Mom Discovers Parental Respect 'Not for Sale'

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: I'm so ashamed I can't face my clergyman with this problem. Maybe you can help me.

I was left a widow at 28. My daughter, then 4, was a beautiful child. It was easy to treat her like a doll. I worked as an alteration supervisor in a large shop. Ann Landers and did extra sewing at night.

I made exquisite clothes for my daughter and she was as well-dressed as the wealthiest girls in the school. I bought her a fur coat, gave her ballet lessons and drama instruction. She never did without anything. I did without plenty. I neglected myself and devoted my life to giving her the finest.

Today she's a senior in high school. I learned last week the school faculty is having a tea for mothers of seniors. When I heard about it she confessed tearing up the invitation. She said I wouldn't fit in and I'd look dowdy next to the mothers of her friends. She said she wanted to "save me embarrassment."

I'm heartbroken. Why has my daughter no appreciation for the sacrifices I've made for her? Why has she no respect? I wanted her to be proud of me, but instead she's ashamed. Please help me to understand.—GRACE

Your story is tragic, Grace, but it's not new. Parents who break their necks to give their children "the best" often wind up with kids who are "the worst." Parental respect is not automatic. It can't be purchased or obtained through bribery. Nor is it payable on demand. You've heaped so many superficial "advantages" on this girl that she doesn't know what the real values are. Your daughter never learned to give. She's been on the receiving end all her life.

Our children see us in the role in which we cast ourselves. Fathers who function only as cash-registers are regarded as such. Mothers who wait on their children like servants get no thanks and no respect. I'm afraid

I haven't been much comfort, Grace, but these are the bitter herbs in the garden of reality. And as we sow—so shall we reap.

DEAR ANN: A girl friend gave me a dress she'd worn only a few times. She said it didn't fit right and she never liked it. I was thrilled because the dress looked perfect on me and I've been hard up lately and not able to buy anything new.

Last night I wore the dress to a party. I got lots of compliments on it. My girl friend was there and heard the raves.

This morning she phoned to say she changed her mind and would I mind bringing the dress back. Think this is a low trick. Shall I tell her she's out of luck?—BRIGITTE

Return the dress, Toots. You wouldn't enjoy wearing it knowing how she feels. Ask her if she wants it gift-wrapped or will it be O.K. if you deliver it on a hanger.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: The gang down at the shop wants your advice on a problem. I was appointed secretary for this project and hope I can make myself clear.

A bunch of us fellows play cards during lunch hour and sometimes we get in a hand or two during coffee break. There are two foremen who cheat. One guy is pretty open about it. He's won a good sized bundle since the first of the year—about $800.

These guys are in a position to make real trouble for the rest of us. Things have been plenty rough what with cut-backs and lay-offs so we're all edgy. We want to know what (if anything) should be done about this.—GUTLESS WONDERS

Of course something should be done about it—and the sooner the better. You fellows have been holding still for a not-so-subtle kind of blackmail. If none of you has the courage to nail the crooks and expose the whole dirty business, then leave the cards at home. If you continue to be willing pigeons, you deserve to get clipped, and your signature described the whole lot of you beautifully.

No Match Expected

London—Princess Margaret is going to spend the next three days in romantic Brussels—and her big date is bachelor King Baudouin.

Margaret's rejected suitor, Group Capt. Peter Townsend, an old Brussels boy friend, doesn't even seem to be in her engagement book. Informed sources say Townsend, who has made Brussels his self-exiled home, is not in the city.

No Match Expected

It was from the gay capital of Belgium that Townsend once paid court to Margaret by telephone and letters.

That was when he was air attaché at the British embassy, a job to which he was hurried from London to get him away from Margaret.

Few, if any people, are speculating on any love match between Margaret and Baudouin, but certain facts about them stand out like diamonds on a tiara.

King a Catholic

Margaret is 28, unmarried, rich, a royal princess with no apparent suitors in sight.

Baudouin is 28, well off and one of the world's few remaining kings with no girl friend in sight.

But—there are also certain facts that might discourage any romantic coupling of Margaret's and Baudouin's names.

The king is a Roman Catholic. The princess is an Anglican Protestant.

Baudouin is a shy young man

The bride attended Appleton High school and is employed at Zwicker Knitting mills. Mr. St. Louis attended Washington High school, New London, and is employed at the Consolidated Water, Power and Paper company.

Culbertson on Bridge

By Ely Culbertson

One of the most dramatic hands played in a New York club for many a day was the hand described below. It is reminiscent of the legendary "Mississippi Heart Hand," but there is one enormous difference: whereas the latter was supposedly used by Mississippi River gamblers to bilk the victim who had been dealt an apparently ironclad 13 tricks which turned out to be only six tricks, this hand delivered 3130 points to its wily holder (and his amazed partner).

South, dealer.

North-South vulnerable.

NORTH		EAST
S-K Q 7 6 5 2	H-10	S-4 3	H-9 8 6 5 2
D-6 3	C-K 10 7 7 5	D-J 10 7 2	C-4 2
WEST		SOUTH
S-J 10 8 8	S-4 3	S-A	H-A K Q J 7 4 3
H-10	H-9 8 6 5 2	D-A K	C-A 6 3
D-Q 9 8 5 4	D-J 10 7 2
C-Q J 8	C-4 2

South, with "larceny in his soul," started off with the specific object of so confusing the opponents that one of them would be indiscreet enough to double the final contract, thus paving the way to a very lucrative redouble. Later South admitted, however, that he had not even hoped for the degree of success he obtained! This was the remarkable bidding:

South	West	North	East
2 D (!) Pass	2 S	Pass	Pass
3 D (!) Pass	4 C	Pass	Pass
6 NT	D'ble	7 S	Pass
7 NT	D'ble	Pass	Pass
Red'ble	Pass	Pass	Pass

West—obviously a naive type!—started licking his chops from the moment he heard South's two-diamond opening, and as the bidding progressed he fairly drooled. Evidently, he did not give a thought to the possibility that South was peddling a gold brick; convinced that South was counting on a good diamond break when he was foredoomed to a very bad break, West doubled the six no trump. Then when North made the terrible (but providential) bid of seven spades, West thought he would buy a new car on his profit from doubling seven no trump!

Actually, as may be seen, West would have scored heavily, due to his partner's completely fortuitous heart holding, but "something happened." West led the spade jack. South won, and before touching the heart suit, had the inspiration to cash the ace and one of his precious diamonds king of clubs and then throw off a heart on the spade king. That did it! When he next cashed the spade queen, East

This Never Done Unless Necessary

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: The other evening my husband and I were invited to a friend's house to play bridge. Before I left I told my daughter that if Mrs. A. called to tell her to call me at this friend's house, and I left the number with her, I was expecting a call from Mrs. A. and thought she might call while I was out. My husband thinks it was not right for me to do this. I would like to know if it is wrong to receive calls at another's house?

Answer: If it was an important call and you could not have reached Mrs. A. later it was quite all right to leave your hostess' telephone number, but under ordinary circumstances you would not do this.

Duties at Wedding

Dear Mrs. Post: What are the duties of the bridegroom's parents before the wedding? They live in the same city as the bride's family but they are not personal friends.

Answer: There are no special duties beyond the visit you are expected to pay to the girl's family when the engagement is announced, and to buy the bride as nice a wedding present as you can afford. It is always very friendly on the part of the man's relatives who don't know the girl to invite her (and if possible her family) to a gathering some time before the wedding.

Leaving Theater

Dear Mrs. Post: When a man and woman are leaving their seats in a theater, does it seem rude if the man goes out of the row ahead of the woman if he happens to be sitting nearer the aisle, or is he supposed to stand and let her pass in front of him so that she may go out first?

Answer: They go out in the order in which they are seated. When he gets to the aisle he stands aside and lets her go first, but if there is room they walk out together.

Worker Must Have Right Job to Find Happiness

BY ANGELO PATRI
Work, the right work for the right worker is the essence of a happy life. If the work is not suited to the tastes, capacities and skills of the worker, he is miserable, having missed the best element of his active days, and the work is not well done.

What I am most interested in here is the placing of school pupils, their preparation for that placing, where they can do the most good for themselves and for the community.

There are several classes of occupations for which we prepare school pupils, high school students, especially. We head them toward the professions, toward the crafts and trades, or toward jobs. The success of the school's efforts in this field largely depends on the good sense of the parents.

Prejudice Exists
There is still in this country of all places, a prejudice against sending young people into occupations where they make their living by the skill of their hands. The erroneous notion that manual work is degrading, that it places a worker in a lower social scale than that of the professional worker is what often places young people in the wrong job.

This is why we find typists who cannot spell simple words, stenographers who cannot read their notes, teachers who dislike children, lawyers who wish they were artists — all making life miserable for themselves and for those they are intended to help.

Businessmen have complained that the schools do not teach the fundamentals of this world not happen.

Best Living Possible
But we do teach fundamentals to all who can or who will learn. We do try to guide students into the fields that their abilities promise the greatest success in, and we do try to win the parents into seeing the kind of mind, taste and talent their children end-students. We are not always successful, and we will not be, toward the crafts and trades, until society in the large, or toward jobs. The success accepts all work as what Car-

We do try to guide students into the fields that their abilities promise the greatest success in, and we do try to win the parents into seeing the kind of mind, taste and talent their children end-students. We are not always successful, and we will not be, toward the crafts and trades, until society in the large, or toward jobs. The success accepts all work as what Car-of the school's efforts in this field largely depends on the good sense of the parents. Some times this fails us.

Prejudice Exists
There is still in this country of all places, a prejudice against sending young people into occupations where they make their living by the skill of their hands. The erroneous notion that manual work is degrading, that it places a worker in a lower social scale than that of the professional worker is what often places young people in the wrong job.

This is why we find typists who cannot spell simple words, stenographers who cannot read their notes, teachers who dislike children, lawyers who wish they were artists — all making life miserable for themselves and for those they are intended to help.

Businessmen have complained that the schools do not teach the fundamentals of this world not happen.

Though many young people today genuinely seek jobs that will offer them unusual opportunity for advancement, travel and educational enlightenment, unfortunately some of these men and women on the brink of a career are unaware of job possibilities offered by the government.

The U.S. Department of State each year employs young people in stenographic, secretarial and code clerk positions. Mrs. Mary Johnson, personnel officer from the state department will be in Appleton from today until Friday and will interview and administer civil service examinations to those women interested in the secretarial and stenographic posts and young men desiring positions as code clerks.

During her employment in the state department, Jo Ann has been based in Atlanta, Ga., Los Angeles, Calif., and New York City.

Miss Suzanne Wochos has been employed by the office of international conferences. In 1957 she served as secretary to the United States delegation at the Suez canal conferences in both London and Cairo.

State Medical Head Resigns Over Dispute

Menasha Doctor Will Take Over Wisconsin Post

Stevens Point — The president of the Wisconsin State Medical society resigned Sunday in the heated climax of a special meeting called to settle a statewide dispute over prepaid medical care plans.

Dr. Jerome W. Fons of Milwaukee announced his resignation after the society's house of delegates voted 55-22 to adopt a report of its referendum committee calling for selection of one Blue Shield plan for the entire state.

If Dr. Fons not reconsider his resignation, he will be succeeded by Dr. W. B. Hildebrand, Menasha, the president-elect, who was scheduled to take over when Dr. Fons' term ends next May.

No Alternative

Dr. Fons said the action by the house in Sunday's brief session left him no alternative but to resign. The 22 votes against the report represented a solid block of Milwaukee delegates.

The approved plan, submitted by the Dane County Medical society, would authorize any county unit to operate a branch of the statewide Blue Shield plan within its own territorial limits.

The State Medical society now sells Wisconsin Physicians service everywhere but in Milwaukee county. The Medical Society of Milwaukee County sells Surgical Care. They differ in contract terms, but both qualify for the Blue Shield label.

Why I Work for Red Feather...

This is another in a series of articles written by volunteer workers in the 1958 Community Fund drive. Each person tells why he volunteered to work in the $136,132 campaign. Stuart H. Koch, 202 River drive, assistant campaign chairman, speaks here.

The eight agencies of the Appleton Community fund have assumed the responsibility, for us, to take care of the needs and wants of Appleton. It is up to us, therefore, to assume the responsibility to provide the funds with which they can work.

There is not one agency that is not doing a fine job in community service.

By working for the Community fund, I am actually helping eight agencies do their work. Without the united way of giving drive volunteers would be doing eight times the work. One drive can be administered much more economically than eight, too.

Lippmann Calls for U. S. to Stop Backing Chiang in Formosa Fight

BY WALTER LIPPMANN

The president is faced with a crisis in our relations with Chiang's government in Formosa. The red Chinese block-air force begin the war which we would then have to finish. In resisting the pressure to go to war, it will be difficult, no reason to perhaps impossible, for the think that it president to avoid a decision can be broken which means in effect that he except by a has recovered American con-war against United States foreign the mainland policy. For he will have to This war prevent Chiang from attack- ing the mainland and, having

Lippmann would have to be waged by the United States. The presi- dent is under increasingly frant pressure from Formo- sa, and from some people in Washington, to let Chiang's Chinese block-air force begin the war which we would then have to finish. In resisting the pressure to go to war, it will be difficult, no reason to perhaps impossible, for the think that it president to avoid a decision can be broken which means in effect that he except by a has recovered American con-war against United States foreign the mainland policy. For he will have to This war prevent Chiang from attack- ing the mainland and, having done that, he will have to in- sist on our right to negotiate for a cease-fire to be followed by the withdrawal of the Na- tionalist troops.

The troops can be saved but not the offshore islands, and this country will have done all that it is obligated to do for Formosa if it extricates one-third of Chiang's army from the trap they are in.

Moreover, it is a question whether the understanding agreed to by Dulles at the time the Formosa treaty was ratified by the senate gives the president the moral right to do any more.

Would Mean Defeat There is no doubt the with- drawal of the Nationalist troops will mean that Chiang has been defeated in the off- shore islands, and that all hope of his return by invad- ing the mainland will have been written off spectacular- ly. But bad as it will be for Chiang's prestige, and also in some measure for our own, it will be less bad than the other possibilities now open to us.

The withdrawal and salvaging of Chiang's troops will be less bad than a war which would be enormously difficult to lo- calize and, if it involved nu- clear weapons, would have catastrophic effects on our whole position in Asia. For the people of Asia have not for- gotten that the first time that nuclear weapons were used in war it was by the United States against an Asian peo- ple. It is unthinkable that President Eisenhower should repeat that tragedy.

The evacuation of Chiang's troops will be less bad also in its effect than letting these troops be besieged and starv- ed while we stand by and make ineffectual attempts to run the blockade.

All the choices are horrid. The grim truth is that Dulles has been caught in a trap which could have been avoid- ed by insisting that Chiang withdraw his troops before this bombardment began. There is no pretty and agree- able way to get out of such a trap.

Need Realism The best way out is to act with the magnanimity and self-assurance of a great power, to disentangle ourselves from Chiang, and then to as- tonish the world by a show of realism and common sense about the future of Formosa. It is said that all the smaller nations will abandon us if we do not let Chiang lead us into war. It is said that to refuse to be led into war is appeasement which will encourage a bigger war of aggression. But as against this, it can be said that our entanglement with Chiang is regarded in most of the world as sinis- ter, and as a sign of political and moral weakness here at home under internal political pressure. Were the United States to extricate itself from the entanglement and to come forth, as it can and as it should, with constructive proposals that Chiang cannot ve- to, our prestige would rise and our influence would increase. Our existing entanglement is an enormous liability, and a sign that we were once again free of it would be taken not as weakness, not as a "Mun- ich," but as evidence that we were a great power which can be trusted to defend the peace of the world.

Fire Interrupts Osborn Packer Fan at Game.
Seymour — Packer fan Nor- man Buchmann, route 3, Sey- mour, suffered an even great- er loss than having his favor- ites gobbled up by the Halas horde Sunday. A storage building on his town of Os- born farm was destroyed by fire during the game.
The fire was discovered by Norman Maass, a neighbor about 1 p.m. Maass alerted the Seymour Volunteer Fire department and was able to save several small imple- ments and some toys from the building. Buchmann was called from the Bear-Packer game.
According to Mrs. Albert Krahn, Buchmann's mother-in-law at whose home the Buchmann children were stay- ing, the building contained 25 ducks, 25 roosters, a $400 power saw, a barrel of tractor oil, $100 worth of small imple- ments and some new lumber. She said the Buchmanns were in the process of razing the building for salvage to

Back-Stair Gossip, Rumors in U. S. Decided Advantage to Communists

BY GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY
New York — One of the great advantages that Soviet Russia enjoys in the cold war is that in the so-called democracies all mouths are wide open and every man, woman and child, drunkard, moron and imbecile as well as expert and philosopher is entitled to an opinion and the expression thereof.

That is guaranteed by the constitution. It is thus possible for the Russians and their Chinese and Arabian allies to make use of that ancient device of the back-stairs, namely, the rumor machine and the whispering campaign, which sooner or later, if accelerated in volume, produces a wave of opinion that can have damaging effects upon the country and its policies. What the United States is trying to do about Quemoy and Matsu is to establish a principle of international relations that a country cannot shoot its way into the United Nations. Red China is an indecent nation which uses spread methods to which even Stalinist Russia did not descend and there is no reason whatsoever why anyone needs to associate with such indecencies. Secondly, the president of the United States has at long last taken the stand that this country is not going to be pushed around by an abusive, foul-speaking, nasty-mouthed moujik named Khrushchev, and that the president does not need to read communications from this boor. After all, because an Ukrainian barfly happens to become elevated to the rant's role in Russia is no reason why the United States needs to suffer his vulgarity. The handling of such matters by a government is very delicate and difficult and the president needs the support of all citizens of good-will. In the looseness of New York's cafe society and the dinner parties of the rich there are always men and women who repeat what they hear somewhere. That is how the ball gets rolling. The whispering device is one of the most awful that an enemy can use, for resistance to it usually is nil. A wise-looking man who should not say an unmeasured word will say: "We ought to do business with red China. Everybody does business with red China except the United States." That is how it starts. Is this communist propaganda? Who can believe that such a wise man would believe that in free countries, it can lead to decent methods to which even Stalinist Russia did not descend and there is no reason whatsoever why anyone needs to associate with such indecencies. I pick this one subject of trade with red China not as a subject of discussion but as a

The Investor Wants Growth, Protection; Finds RCA Preferred Stock Looks Good

BY WILLIAM A. DOYLE

Q. I have decided to make my first investment in stocks. I expect both growth and protection. I was going to buy 200 shares of Radio Corporation of America common stock. That would pay me annual dividends of $200. But, for almost the same money, I could buy 100 shares of RCA preferred stock and get $350 a year in dividends.

I would get a 5 per cent return by investing in the preferred but only 2.6 per cent on the common. Are my calculations wrong? Is there any possibility that the preferred dividend will be reduced?

A. Your figuring is correct—as far as you went. But you didn't carry it far enough. You calculated the return on RCA's common only on the regular dividend of $1 a year. What you didn't take into account is that the company pays extra dividends on the common stock. The extra has amounted to 50 cents in each of the last three years.

Not all extras that are voted on various common stocks can be counted as certain to continue. But this one looks safe. So, with the total yearly dividends of $1.50, RCA's common yields just about 4 per cent.

I know, that is still a smaller return than you would get on the preferred. But RCA common is considered a growth stock. In other words, investors feel the company's profits will increase over the years and common stockholders will share in those profits through higher dividends. The annual dividend on the preferred stock, however, is fixed at $3.50 a share. Don't worry. There is almost no danger of this being reduced. Preferred stock (as its name implies) gets preference over common in payment of dividends and usually gets paid off before common in case a company liquidates.

It's more than doubtful that any such dire consequence will ever befall RCA. Holders of the preferred stock will go merrily on collecting $3.50 per share a year in dividends.

Not too Popular
You have probably noticed, though, that most straight preferred stocks haven't been too popular lately. That's because they don't offer much chance for growth, as common stocks do.

Sooner or later, you will wake up to the fact that no one security can give both absolute safety and growth.

Q. I have inherited $5,000 which I would like to invest. I want to learn much more about the market than I know now and I am thinking about attending classes on the subject. I have investigated one such course operated by a brokerage firm, another by a group of banks and another by the YMCA.

Each of these courses has about 10 sessions, one night a week. Do you believe they are worth while?

A. I most certainly do. These adult education classes, sponsored by brokerage firms, banks, civic groups, churches, fraternal organizations, school boards and others are doing a wonderful job. They are springing up all over the country.

By attending such a course, the beginning investor can learn the fundamentals of the market and save himself or herself from making a lot of foolish mistakes.

Outagamie Farm Income Shows Boost in '57

(Special to Post-Crescent)

New York—Gross farm income in Outagamie county during 1957 increased $1,570,000 over the previous year.

Gross income in 1957 amounted to $31,232,000, compared to $29,662,000 in 1956. Receipts from crop sales totaled about $3,253,000 and livestock revenue amounted to about $26,055,000.

In terms of an estimated 15,500 farm population at the beginning of the year, gross income amounted to $2,015 per capita. Average farm income in the United States was $1,712. In Wisconsin, gross income amounted to $1,692 per capita.

The gross income total includes payments under government farm programs and value of products grown and consumed on the farm.

Wisconsin farm acreage has risen 5 per cent during the last year, the department of agriculture reports.

3-Way Translation Delivers Sermon

McAlester, Okla.—(AP)—The Rev. Martin Larsson of Sweden is a deaf Methodist minister who can speak no English. He found himself in double trouble when he was scheduled to preach a sermon to a deaf congregation. He solved it by transmitting his Swedish sermon in hand signals to his wife, who verbally translated it into English to another woman, and she in turn relayed the sermon back into deaf-mute hand signs.

Feminine Leads

New York —(AP)—The lone feminine role in "No Time for Sergeants" is developing particular appeal for certain performers.

In two recent road productions of the farce hit, the part was undertaken first by Anne Corio, then by Julie Gibson, both best known as strip tease performers in burlesque.

Internist Not an Intern, He's a Medical Specialist

By Joseph G. Molner, M. D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Can you inform me in layman's language just what I am supposed to understand by the term internist? — J. T."

I'll try—and I think it's a pretty good question.

Let's start with the medical student. Dr. Molner He finishes college, gets his diploma, then immediately starts a year as an intern in a hospital. As an intern but not as an internist.

This year as an intern is a transition period. The young graduate is already a doctor, but the year in the hospital gives him a vast amount of practical experience, and teaches him to take responsibility. Yet he is, for that year, still under the supervision of staff doctors of senior status. If he is puzzled by a case, he can ask for help. And in any event, he is being watched, ed, and advised, and helped by the older men. After a year in the hospital, he then can go out and get his state medical license.

He is, after years of study, ready to go it alone—as much as any doctor ever is, for we all realize that we never can know it all, and must know when we don't know. Then we call for consultation men who are specialists in a given field.

Various Specialists
Now what are the specialties? And how does a doctor field, and then have passed a very rigorous examination. Then immediately after internship, or perhaps after some period of work as a general practitioner, the doctor decides he wants to specialize.

It may be in pediatrics, or obstetrics, or ophthalmology (eye care), neurology, or urology, or otolaryngology (ear-nose - throat), or X-ray work or public health, or proctology, or psychiatry, or orthopedics, or dermatology (skin troubles) or other specialties.

Now an internist isn't specializing in any of the above, but in internal medicine. He has, like any doctor, the basic knowledge of the human body and its diseases, but he specializes in the internal workings of the body—heart, gall bladder, stomach, lungs, prostate, pancreas. In fact, anything inside the body.

An internist, then, is a man of wide experience and training in diagnosis and medical treatment, but not a specialist, say, in surgery.

General Specialist
There is a growing tendency for some doctors to become specialists in general medicine. They, to distinguish from internists, would have added training in all of the specialties, including surgery and obstetrics.

Any real heart specialist, who is not a surgical specialist, would be an internist. Other internists may have specialties of special skill in diabetes, stomach ailments, arthritis, or what have you. A specialist in anything must have had a year or two, and usually more, of special training under leaders in his field, and then have passed a very rigorous examination.

Green Bay — The Packers, perhaps a bit too generous for their own good, were victimized by a man and a unit of the Chicago Bears, 34 to 20, before 32,150 at City stadium Sunday afternoon.

The man was Willie Galimore, a fleet-footed halfback, and the unit was the Bears' defensive line. Willie scored three touchdowns on rushes of one and eight yards and a 78-yard pass. The defensive

Thus, the Packers were off on the wrong foot in their National Football league opener while the Bears were scoring their seventh straight triumph, including six in the exhibition season. The Bears can even the score by whipping the Detroit Lions here next Sunday while Baltimore, a 28-15 victor over Detroit yesterday, plays host to the Bears Saturday night.

The Packers, making their debut under Coach Ray McLean, held two leads — 7 to 0 in the first minute and 17 seconds of the game, when Bobby Dillon returned a pass interception 37 yards for a touchdown, and 10 to 7 at the 10-minute mark in the first period, when Paul Hornung booted a 23-yard field goal.

The Bears moved into a 21-13 halftime lead with two touchdowns in the second quarter and then added single TDs in the third and fourth periods before the Pack produced a consolation seven on

Relentless Grinnell '11' Rolls Over Vikes, 25-8

Pioneers Pile Up 27 1st Downs to Five for Lawrence

MIDWEST CONFERENCE

Grinnell	W	1	0
Cornell	W	1	0
Monmouth	W	1	0

SATURDAY'S GAMES:
Coe at Carleton.
St. Olaf at Cornell.
Grinnell at Ripon.
Monmouth at Knox.
Lawrence—open.

LAST SATURDAY'S RESULTS:
Coe 14, Ripon 6.
Grinnell 25, Lawrence 8.
Carleton 27, St. Olaf 21.
Monmouth 14, Cornell 6.

A relentless Grinnell college ground attack and tenacious defense against rushing earned the Pioneers a 25-8 victory over Lawrence at Grinnell Saturday.

Though they were playing their first game of the season, the winners were solidly impressive as they rolled up a huge statistical advantage over the Vikes. The winners had 27 first downs to Lawrence's five and total yardage of 383 to the losers' 140. Lawrence, now 0-2 for the 1958 Midwest conference season, has two weeks to prepare for arch-rival Ripon. There is an open date next weekend on the Vike schedule.

A pair of hard-running backs, tailback John Copeland and fullback Jim Lowry, each scored two touchdowns and repeatedly broke through the Vike line for big gains. The Pioneers worked their single wing niftily behind a powerful line.

Vikes Score
Lawrence scored a consolation touchdown in the fourth quarter after Grinnell had collected the game's first 25 points.

Lawrence took over the ball on its own 32 and quarterback Jim Schulze fired a 33-yard pass to Tom Gellendine for a first down on the Grinnell 35. Lawrence was moved back to the 40 on an offside penalty and then a Schulze-to-Gary Scovel aerial brought the ball to the winners' 18.

Schulze ripped off five yards to the 13 and then Dave Milford gained nine to the 4. At-

Driver Jimmy Reece Fatally Hurt Sunday

Trenton, N.J. — Driver Jimmy Reece was injured fatally Sunday when his racing car screeched off a 40-foot-high banked track, sailed 150 feet, and smashed into a hurricane fence outside the Trenton speedway.

Reece, 28, of Speedway, Ind., was rounding a turn in the last lap of a 100-mile race when the accident occurred. The race was won by Roger Ward of Indianapolis.

Cleveland Tips Rams, 30-27, on Groza's Boot

The Baltimore Colts came from behind in the fourth quarter to dump the defending world champion Detroit Lions, 28-15, in a fierce National football league opener Sunday before 48,377 fans in Baltimore. All told, four of Sunday's six NFL games were decided in come-from-behind last quarter rallies.

End Ray Berry took a 26-yard touchdown pass from Johnny Unitas and halfback L. G. Dupre sprinted over from the 12 in the fourth quarter.

In other games the New York Giants trounced Chicago's Cardinals, 27-7. Cleveland overcame Los Angeles, 30-27; Washington beat Philadelphia, 21-14, and San Francisco edged Philadelphia, 23-20. The Bears beat the Packers, 34-20.

Lou Groza booted a field goal with 25 seconds left to give the Browns their victory. Cleveland trailed, 27-14, going into the final period. A crowd of 69,993 in Los Angeles watched Milt Plum fire to Ray Renfro for one TD and Jim Brown smash for five yards.

Cardinals Give Hemus 1-Year Managing Pact

St. Louis — Solly Hemus, former player with the club, was named by the St. Louis Cardinals today as the new manager.

The contract of the fiery little Hemus is for one year. He succeeds Fred Hutchinson, fired recently when it became obvious the club would not finish as high as the Cardinal bosses had expected.

Choice of Busch
The announcement confirmed an exclusive Associated Press report of two weeks ago that Hemus, the personal choice of owner August Busch, would be the new manager. The Cardinals, who wound up the 1958 season in a fifth-place tie with the Chicago Cubs, also named Johnny

Dykes Says Covington's Bad Legs May Spell Defeat for Braves

BY JOE REICHLER

Milwaukee — If Milwaukee's Warren Spahn and New York's "Whitey" Ford, during the same pair who pitched last October's opener, will face each other in the first game of the 1958 World Series here Wednesday.

The selection of the star southpaws to open the post-season proceedings was taken for granted even before the official announcements, scheduled to be made some time today.

Spahn, 22-11 during the regular season, warmed up for his important assignment with a 6-inning chore against Cincinnati Saturday, during which he permitted only one run. Ford (14-7) also turned in an impressive performance for his lead-off role with a 1-hit, 6-inning performance against Baltimore Friday.

Although neither of the managers would admit it, each has his rotation for the first three games all set. Lew Burdette (20-10), 3-time conqueror of the Yankees in last year's Milwaukee triumph, is a lead-pipe cinch to hurl the second game for the Braves. Opposing him on Thursday, in Milwaukee's County stadium, will be Bob Turley (21-7), the Hankees' strong-armed right-hander.

Braves Confident

Third game opponents figure to be Bob Rush (10-6) for the Braves and Don Larsen (9-6), the only perfect game pitcher in World Series history, for the Yankees. Rush, who hurled three strong innings in the season's finale against Cincinnati Sunday, is this corner's choice to receive the nod over candidates Carlton Willey, Juan Pizarro, Bob Buhl and Ernie Johnson.

No matter who pitches, and when, the Series figures to go at least six games. Neither of the clubs has a decided advantage over the other. The hitting and fielding is about even, the Braves have the edge in pitching and the Yankees are superior in speed and on the bench.

The Braves, having proved to themselves they could beat the Yankees, are confident they can do it again. The Yankees on the other hand, point to the fact that both Mickey Mantle and Bill Skowron, who missed part of the action last year because of injuries, are hale and hearty this time.

The Braves will enter the

Ends Redmen's Win Streak at 10; Carleton Nips Oles

By the Associated Press
Coe grabbed a surprising victory over defending champion Ripon in Midwest Conference football action Saturday night to end the Redmen's winning streak at 10 straight over two seasons.

The Kohawks, a strong challenger for the 1958 title, now have a 2-0 league record, while Ripon is 1-1.

Grinnell opened its conference schedule by downing Lawrence, 25-8. In other league games last Saturday, Carleton beat St. Olaf, 27-21, while Monmouth tripped Cornell, 14-6. Knox was idle in the conference.

All of the Coe-Ripon scoring was in the final period, with Coe scoring the clinching touchdown after a 58-yard drive begun after recovering a Ripon fumble.

Contrary to anything you may have read or heard, the Appleton High school Terrors are not ready to abdicate as kings of Fox River Valley conference football.

The twice-in-a-row champs, picked no higher than third in pre-season ratings and looking on the inept side in a losing opener against Fond du Lac, planted a 21-7 haymaker on Sheboygan North here Saturday.

AHS' title ambitions get the ultimate test at Green Bay East Friday night in a make-or-break duel with the unbeaten and title-favored Red Devils.

Classic defensive play and the electrifying ball-carrying of halfback Mike Franzke thrilled a gathering of more than 2,000 fans and enabled the Terrors to even their FRVC record at 1-1.

Rick Casares, Chicago Bear Fullback, is stopped short of a second-quarter touchdown by Bill Forester (69). The Bears, however, scored their third TD two plays later and went on to a 34-20 win.

a Hornung plunge in the last few minutes.

The Packers actually presented the Bears with two gorgeous scoring opportunities with fumbles. John Symank fumbled a punt moments after Dillon's touchdown and the Bears tied the score at 7-all in five plays from the Packer 32. That was a wicked break because the Bears had forced the boot with three good defensive plays.

The second fumble upped the Bears' lead to 21-10. The Bear defensive line swept the Packer line aside and smothered Bart Starr, Earl Leggett recovering on the Packer 11. Ed Brown, who went the distance at quarterback, scored from two yards out on fourth down.

The Bears appeared exceptionally rough and nasty—more often a characteristic of the Packers and it apparently paid off. Midway in the third period when the Bears seemed fiery and on their way to closing up the 21-13 gap, quarterback "Babe" Parrilli got a knee in the ribs—real deliberate-like, and he had to leave.

A few plays later, defensive ace Hank Gremminger was somehow knocked out. The Bears ironically scored their last two TDs thus salting the bacon away after Hank went out.

Sturdivant, like Larsen a sore-armed disappointment in the second half of the season, allowed six hits and two runs in six innings. Rookie Gary Bell went all the way for Cleveland in the "money" game against Detroit. Victory meant a fourth-place share of the series cash for the Indians. They finished half a game ahead of the Tigers, playing only 153. A rained-out game with Baltimore never was replayed.

Hurl For Chisox
Rookies Stover McIlwain, Hal Trosky and Bob Shaw pitched for the White Sox. Lou Klimchuck of the A's hit his first big league homer.

The 40-year-old Williams said he was "extremely lucky" to have won another crown, his second straight. But his blazing finish was in the tradition of confident heroes.

Hitting under .300 in June, he had edged up on the leaders and finally crept ahead of teammate Pete Runnels in the first game of double-header last Friday night. Runnels, a former Senator, tied it in the second game but could not stand up to Williams' pace Saturday and Sunday.

Going into the last game of the season, Williams was hitting .327 and Runnels .324. When it was over, Williams was still the champ with .328 and Runnels, hitless for the series against Milwaukee, Colavito hit his forty-first to come within one of a tie.

Starting Job
Larsen almost certainly won himself a starting job in the series against Milwaukee, by his fine job against Baltimore in the first game. The perfect game pitcher of the 1956 series allowed only one hit in five scoreless innings, striking out four. Ryne Dur-

Terror Jayvees Defeat North

Dennis Garvey Scores 2 TDs In 20-0 Victory

The Appleton High school junior varsity football team completely overwhelmed Sheboygan North, 20-0, Saturday morning in Sheboygan for the Terror Jayvees' first win of the season. The Terrors are now 1-0-1, North is 0-1-1.

Quarterback Dick Bloomer, who was moved up to the first team during the week, did a superb job of faking and play selection as the winners piled up total yardage of 277 to North's 76.

The Terrors took the opening kickoff and marched 73 yards to a score with runs of 21 and 18 yards by right half Dennis Garvey featuring the drive. Garvey crashed over from the 3-yard line.

Intercepts Pass
At the end of the first quarter John Walter intercepted a North pass and the winners marched 80 yards in 16 plays for their second TD. Garvey cracked over from the 2. Kent Anderson's second straight conversion made it 14-0.

Appleton added its final score in the third period, taking over the ball on the North 33. Tom Laux dove over from one yard out to make it 20-0. Garvey picked up 150 yards in 20 carries, for a 7.2 average. Fullback Walter gained 66 in nine tries for a 7.2 average.

Williams Wins 6th AL Batting Title

Ted's .328 Mark Shades Runnels By 6 Points; Yanks 1st by 10

By The Associated Press

The American league "race" that really ended in May ground to a close Sunday with the New York Yankees winning by 10 games and 40-year-old Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox clinching his sixth batting championship.

Williams smashed seven hits in 11 trips in the final series at Washington, beating out teammate Pete Runnels who had only five hits in 18 at-bats.

Williams clinched it with a home run into the center field bleachers. He had doubled earlier in Boston's 6-4 victory over Washington.

Final Figures
The final figures showed Williams .328 and Runnels .322. Boston's eight triumph in its last nine games sewed up third place while Cleveland took fourth by whipping Detroit, 6-2. Chicago, using young pitchers after a second-place finish, ground up an 11-4 score over Kansas City.

Don Larsen and Tom Sturdivant tuned up for World Series duty as the Yankees swept two from Baltimore, 7-0 and 6-3.

Mickey Mantle won the home run crown with 42 although he had to be satisfied with three singles on the final day. Cleveland's Rocky Colavito hit his forty-first to come within one of a tie.

Larsen almost certainly won himself a starting job in the series against Milwaukee, by his fine job against Baltimore in the first game. The perfect game pitcher of the 1956 series allowed only one hit in five scoreless innings, striking out four. Ryne Dur-

Singling for the Braves were Red Schoendienst, Johnny DeMerit, Johnny Logan and Joe Koppe. Only one other Milwaukee runner reached base, on a walk given up by Lawrence. Starter Kellner, former American leaguer, took the triumph, his seventh against three defeats.

Bob Rush started and after giving up a 2-out first-inning single, retired the next seven Redlegs in order before leaving in the third. The right-hander fanned one and didn't give up a walk.

Willey Is Loser
Another right-hander, Carl Willey was next, working three innings and winding up with the loss, his seventh against nine victories. In the fourth Willey retired the side in order. In the fifth he gave up a pair of walks but escaped any other damage.

He lost in the sixth as Alex Grammas singled leading off, took second on an infield out and moved to third on a wild pitch. He scored on a single by Vada Pinson who stole second and crossed the plate on Frank Robinson's single.

The third Milwaukee hurler was Ernie Johnson who came on in the seventh and got into trouble in the eighth. Jerry Lynch and Pinson hit back-to-back singles before Robinson's double scored Lynch. A sacrifice fly by George Crowe allowed Pinson to score.

Left-hander Juan Pizarro took a turn in the ninth and retired the side in order before a crowd of 41,364 which raised season attendance to 1,951,101.

St. Mary Tips St. Joseph Frosh, 28-6

St. Mary of Appleton tripped St. Joseph of Appleton, 28-6, Sunday before over 500 fans at Goodland field in a ninth grade football game.

It was the fourth straight victory for St. Mary. Pete Werner scored a pair of touchdowns for the winners who piled up a 28-0 lead in the early minutes of the third quarter. Werner counted on a 7-yard run and a 45-yard pass play (from quarterback Paul Zeegers).

Joe Nussbaum crashed over from four yards out and Mike Gertz caught a 30-yard touchdown pass from Zeegers for the other TDs. Nussbaum, Bill Dedeker, Bob Rammer and George Zuleger ran for the extra points.

Halfback Eisner scored St. Joseph's touchdown late in the fourth quarter, on a 4-yard run. Dick Rankin and Gertz did outstanding jobs in the defensive secondary for the winners.

St. Mary's next game is against Fox Valley Lutheran at 7:30 next Monday evening at Goodland field.

The teams punted back and forth until Brown pitched to Hill for 17 yards and the final Bear TD in the fourth frame. McGee's two long catches set up Hornung's 2-yard smash off tackle for a touchdown just before the game ended.

Three good gains (14 by Hornung, 21 on a Parilli-to-Gary Knafele pass and 12 on Parilli's pass to Bill Howton) set up Hornung's 30-yard field goal just before the half.

Braves Again Are Champs At Box Office

NL Shows Hefty Attendance Rise In '58 Season

New York —(AP)—The final figures for the 1958 major league baseball attendance resolved all doubts about Milwaukee's ability to maintain itself as the nation's top baseball town.

Figures compiled by the Associated Press show the National league champion Braves again topping all clubs in home attendance with 1,971,101. This was the Braves' sixth straight year to lead the turnstile league.

The seventh-place Dodgers trailed the Braves by 123,833 with 1,845,268 mark, second best in the majors, while the Braves, St. Louis, a major disappointment, wound up in a fifth-place tie with Chicago, league with 1,428,428, third in 20 games back. The Cubs and the majors.

Los Angeles finished their seasons Saturday while the Coliseum was given over to pro football Sunday.

Overlooked
Almost overlooked in the excitement over the batting race was the fact that Dave Philley set a major league record with his eighth straight pinch hit for the Phils.

Ernie Banks, Chicago Cubs' shortstop, won the National league home run crown with 47 and topped the circuit in runs batted in with 129.

Show Flashy Attacks
In Winning Openers;
Buckeyes Tip SMU

By The Associated Press

This could be the year college football abandons the traditional running game and begins a new era of wide-open offense.

Already two of the nation's top coaches — "Bud" Wilkinson of Oklahoma and "Red" Blaik of Army — have started the swing. Both were successful in their openers, so other coaches are certain to follow the pattern.

Slugs West Virginia

Oklahoma, which over-whelmed West Virginia, 47-14, last Saturday, showed split ends, flankers, wide laterals and long forward passes. The entire show was fabulously successful, for West Virginia is no one's pushover.

It also raised the possibility that this could be one of Wilkinson's greatest machines. His club plays Oregon of the Pacific Coast conference this Saturday.

Pretty Good Team

Like West Virginia, South Carolina was rated a pretty good team. It was good enough to thrash Duke in its opener, but was completely surprised by the Army she-nanigans. The Cadets play Penn State this week. The Nittany Lions, who beat Penn State, 43-0, know what to expect, so it should be interesting.

Ohio State, No. 1 in last week's Associated Press poll, apparently is sticking to its grunting ground game. The Buckeyes just did get past Appleton's Bob Roemer (14) is tripped up by Sheboygan North's Bob Otte (22) after a first-period pass interception Saturday. Other Terrors shown are Joe Eich (37) and Marv Hietpas (44). North's Tom Wick is No. 63. AHS won, 21-7.

Southern Methodist, 23-20, and stayed right on the ground for the victory. Ohio State enters Washington this week.

Carbon Copy

Auburn, last year's national champion, appears to be a carbon copy of the '57 crew. . . tremendous defense and score when you can. The Tigers ran their winning streak to 15—highest among so far out he doesn't even the major colleges—with a 13-0 decision over Tennessee.

Auburn should have no problem with Chattanooga this week.

Michigan State, ranked fourth behind Ohio State, Oklahoma and Auburn, dumped California, 32-12, and Notre Dame, No. 5, shut out Indiana, 18-0. But Texas Christian, No. 6 and in the favorite in the Southwest conference, was upset by Iowa, 17-0. Lawrence had outplayed the hosts in a scoreless first quarter, piling up three first downs to none for Grinnell.

With about four minutes elapsed in the second chapter, the Pioneers pushed over the game's first counter after a 51-yard drive, when Copeland skirted his own right end. The talented senior tailback booted the conversion.

Lowry Bulls Over

Eight minutes later, with 2:53 left in the half, Lowry bulled into the end zone from seven yards out, culminating an 80-yard march. Copeland fumbled the pass from center on the conversion try.

The half ended with Grinnell on the Lawrence 18.

The winners ground out their third touchdown midway through the third stanza, going from their own 36 to the Viking 1 where Copeland did the honors. His try for the 1-pointer, from placement, was short.

Another Pioneer march along the ground late in the third and early in the fourth segment, culminated in a 2-yard blast over right guard into the end zone by Lowry with 14:22 remaining in the game. That jaunt was 68 yards.

Blocks Point Try

Dave Hackworthy blocked Lowry's try for the conversion, from placement. The Vikes scored and the game ended with Grinnell on the Lawrence 16. Grinnell was forced to punt just once while the versatile Schulze kicked often and well for the losers.

The three Lawrence previously-injured players—tackle Bob Smith, guard Jim Reiskyl and back Jim Leatham—all saw some action, Leatham doing a stint at offensive end. Jim Schulze was shaken up a bit Saturday.

Linebackers Al Stark and Hackworthy turned in good defensive jobs.

Series with Wes Covington, their big left-handed power hitter, nursing two bad legs. His sub-par physical condition could prove fatal. Cincinnati Manager Jimmy Dykes, for one—and a National leaguer, to boot—thinks Covington's poor underpinnings may cost the Braves the Series.

"The Braves are in trouble," he said before his team clashed with the Braves in the season's final game. "They're not coming up to it in good shape."

"There are a few things wrong with them right now," Jimmy added. "Left field is one of the big ones. Covington did a good job for them out there last time. Now he has two bad legs. You can't play in that big Yankee stadium with bum legs."

"I'm worried about that guy Johnny Logan at shortstop," the 61-year-old Redleg skipper said. "He's having a terrible year. He did a terrific job in the Series last year. He played great shortstop as well as half of left field for Covington. He took care of all the pop flies in short left, allowing Wes to play deep. He'll have to go back even further this time, and he's having his own troubles."

So vicious was the Terror defensive play that the heavier Raiders were held to 23 yards from scrimmage passing and running in the first three quarters and failed to register a first down of any kind in that span. The 90-yard kickoff runback by Bob Garton came late in the third stanza before North had a first down.

33 Yards Rushing

North came off with a net rushing total of 33 yards—one of the three greatest defensive efforts of the last four years by Terror teams. (The 1955 Terrors held Fond du Lac to 30 yards, and the '57 Terrors limited Fondy to 32 yards.)

North swelled its total yardage to 128 on the strength of 88 passing yards in the final quarter on six completions. The passes—against a reserve-sprinkled and securely-leading AHS eleven—gave North its only six first downs of the contest.

Franzke, 5-7, 155-pound fireball, rolled up the prodigious total of 188 yards from scrimmage and scored all three AHS touchdowns. Franzke, who had gained an aggregate of only 90 yards in this season's first two games and whose previous single-game high was 95, blurred past and between North defenders for runs of 19, 22, 25 and 48 yards.

The 188-yard total by the blond scatback tops anything a Terror rusher has done in at least six years and is one of the peak tallies in AHS history.

Franzke's touchdown jaunts of 22, 1 and 2 yards climaxed respective AHS marches of 34, 54 and 65 yards.

Franzke's explosive running mate, Bob Roemer, proved another big headache for the visitors. "Birdie" added 53 yards from scrimmage—nearly a 5-yard average—totaled 65 yards on two sharp punt returns and intercepted two Raider aerials.

AHS superb up-front blocking—by far the best of the year—played a big part in helping to spring the Terror speedboys loose. AHS logged a whopping aggregate of 300 yards on the ground—and the overland work took care of the entire Terror yardage.

Roemer set up the first AHS score by short-circuiting a Jerry Hummiltzsch pass and returning it to the North 34.

On the first play, quarterback John Nussbaum—whose faking and timing on pitchouts were extraordinarily good—flipped to Roemer just as he was hit and "Birdie" first-downed it to the 22. Franzke then grabbed a pitch-out, circled the North right flank and out-jettied the defense into the end zone at the 8:33 mark of the first quarter.

Dave Anderson place-kicked the first of three extra points.

For the remainder of the half, AHS gained freely but was unable to sustain a drive long enough to score. North never threatened.

In the third quarter, Nussbaum intercepted Garton's pass on his 20 and scooted back 26 yards. The Terrors needed only six plays and a "personal foul" penalty to take it in. The key play was a 26-yard ramble by Franz-ke, helped along by a fine Tom Kotke block. Franzke went in on a quick dive from the 1.

Eich Abel

It took North only a matter of seconds to get that TD back. Garton caught the kickoff on his 10, kept behind a ruthlessly effective interference screen till midfield, then "took off." He held to the sidelines in covering the last 50 yards of North's first offensive feat of any kind. Dave Bach drop-kicked the seventh point.

Ignites Drive

Stung by the Garton run, the Terrors responded brilliantly with an 8-play, 85-yard journey. Franzke ignited the drive with a sizzling 48-yard end sweep. Jack Carpenter, the last Raider with any kind of a chance to get him, decked Mike on the North 37.

Roemer, Franzke and Cal Kluss alternated in taking the ball to the 2, from where Franzke dived over. With the TD shot after 1:33 of the last quarter had been played, Franzke became the first Terror to score three times since Jim Schulze did it against North in 1956.

North's late game passing attack took the ball to the AHS 14, when time ran out.

Dave LaViolette, with two fumble recoveries, Joe Eich, and Denny Tank stood out with Roemer and Nussbaum in the Terror secondary.

In the line, it was first Bob Thomas, then Ron Tollefson, then Brian Zordel who brushed aside enemy blockers and laid the wood to the ball carrier. On other occasions it was Dick Wankey or Ron Abel, at the ends of the super-charged

Public Told
U.S. Risks War
Over Islands

Impression Given
Reds May be Happy
With Quemoy, Matsu

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Washington—American public opinion has been unwittingly misled into believing that the United States is risking war just to defend two little islands off the coast of red China. The erroneous impression has been widely spread that, if America could only persuade our ally, the nationalist government on Formosa, to surrender the islands of Quemoy and Matsu by negotiation with red China, peace would come to the Far East. This is a fallacious viewpoint. The undisputed facts obtained from state department sources here are as follows:

Lawrence

1.—Red China would welcome but would not be content with the acquisition of Quemoy and Matsu and will never give up its demand for the surrender of Formosa itself.

2. Long Series of broadcasts from Peiping has insisted that the nationalist Chinese must get out of Formosa.

3.—At no time, either in the informal negotiations at Geneva or at Warsaw, has red China's ambassador hinted that the plan to capture Formosa would be abandoned. On the contrary, the demand has been and is that all nationalist and American forces get out of Formosa and that it be evacuated in favor of the red Chinese. Khrushchev's latest letter supported this demand.

4.—Both the nationalist government of China and the American government will concede that the islands of Quemoy and Matsu have no strategic military value in and of themselves. If an invasion of the mainland were undertaken, certainly it would not be by way of Quemoy or Matsu.

5. The United States never advised the nationalists to send any large portion of their army to Quemoy and Matsu, but the free Chinese have felt and still feel that the two islands are a symbol to their own people of the determination to be a hit at fall dances?

6. The two islands mean as much to the free Chinese today as Berlin means to the west Germans. Indeed, Berlin is still an "island" surrounded by Soviet military forces. To mention giving it up is to strike a blow at the morale of the free government of west Germany. On this point, one official in the state department said today to this writer:

"Since Alaska now is a state, in our union, supposing the Russians should demand that we give up our small island of Diomed, which is only two-and-a-half miles away from a Soviet island in the Bering Strait, would the people of the United States sanction the giving up of territory flying the American flag just to satisfy a communist demand? Well, that's the way the nationalist Chinese feel about it, and I may add that they are just as devoted to their country as the people of Hungary or any other nation that has been the victim of communist action."

Whole Situation
The whole situation has to be viewed realistically. The United States is standing up for freedom and against communist tyranny. If America reverses its policy and the nationalist army on Formosa crumbles and the military position of the Philippines, which are a few miles from Formosa, should be weakened, it would be a signal for the red Chinese to resume the war in Korea and Indo-China. Immediately the draft calls for American boys would have to be increased and possibly reservists called back to active duty. The United States would then have to revert to her original position of defending the free Chinese and bolstering the free government of southeast Asia with troops and supplies.

To appease now means war eventually, anyhow. If the communists, however, become convinced that the United States government is in earnest, and if petty politicians and pacifists, here and in Britain, will stop muddying the waters and giving the impression that the American and British people are eager for surrender and peace at any price, there will be no war—small or big.

Offense Draws
Fine of $298
Chilton — A traffic charge, which has been almost a year in the processing, brought a fine of $298 and costs to T. George Ter Maat, Sheboygan Falls, last week.

Ter Maat received a summons charging him with operating a truck with an axle overload of 4,960 pounds from Oct. 8, 1957. Ter Maat and his attorney appeared before Justice of the Peace Wilbur R. Winch last Nov. 1, entered a plea of innocent, and trial was postponed later.

On Sept. 8, 1958, Winch issued a warrant for Ter Maat's arrest. This time the defendant pleaded no contest. He was fined $50 plus 5 cents per pound on the overload for an additional $248, a total of $298 and costs.

Mayor Mitchell Puts $250,000 Price on Pool

An outdoor swimming pool on the south side will cost about $250,000, Mayor Mitchell informed the board of public works today.

The cost estimate was sought by the board so it can draft a plan of bond sales likely next year.

Pool committeemen last week expressed a desire to get construction, probably at Interlake park, underway sometime late this year.

The selection of Interlake park as the site will be discussed in a committee of the whole meeting Wednesday night of the council.

Committeemen have said they would like to build a T-shaped pool like Neenah's, but have not spelled out what other facilities the pool should include.

Fire Chief Wants Council to Hike Strength by Eight

Fire Chief Paul Neumann today asked the council to authorize the hiring of eight more firemen.

Neumann said the purchase of the $26,000 aerial fire truck, delivered today by Peter Pirsch, Kenosha truck builder, requires the additions.

The department has operated at full strength of 59 men plus a vacation relief man since July. The new full strength total would be 68 men.

Space for it in the downtown station was provided by moving the aerial gun equipment to the new south side station at Lincoln and Lawrence streets.

Share Prices Move Higher

Favorable Outlook For Business Major Factor

New York — The stock market rose moderately to ward another record high in active trading early this afternoon.

Leading issues advanced fractions to about a point. There were a few losers and a number of unchanged prices among pivotal stocks.

Steels, aircrafts, chemicals, non-ferrous metals, rails and tobacco generally were higher. Oils, drugs and rubbers were mixed.

The market was higher from the start in heavy trading. Trading moderated and some of the best gains were trimmed.

The business outlook continued favorable. Douglas Aircraft kept a point-plus of an early two-point gain. American Telephone was clipped for more than a one-point loss at the start but cancelled the drop later.

Merck was a 2-point gainer. Lorillard was more than a point ahead. Du Pont and Baltimore & Ohio both advanced about a point.

U.S. government bonds were slightly lower.

44 Petitioners Protest Fence At Golf Course

Forty-four petitioners have filed a protest at city hall to erection of a fence on three streets around Reid Municipal Golf course.

The streets on which the fence should not be placed, they said, are Carpenter, Maple and East streets.

Don Bartlett, Reid pro, asked the council to build the fence to protect the course and golfers from children, their acts of theft, vandalism and littering.

The letter is scheduled for consideration by the 1959 budget committee in mid-October.

Woman Withdraws Offer to Sell City Land West of 41

Mrs. Ed Farrell, 650 Reed street, Neenah, has withdrawn her offer to sell the city about 58 acres west of the city for park, school, golf course or industrial use.

She had wanted $1,000 an acre for land along Highway 41 between County Trunk BB and Spencer road. It is across the highway from Butte des Morts Golf club.

The council's finance committee advertised for land offers for a south side park and has scheduled meetings with Herbert and John Roeland and Joseph H. Doerfler, owners of two tracts south of Hoover avenue.

Prices Increased For Two Important Waste Paper Grades

Chicago — Buying prices for two important grades of waste paper were advanced by paperboard mills $2 a ton to their highest point in around 2 years.

Mixed paper was boosted to $9 a ton and old newspapers to $18 a ton. The hikes were the second this month. Mixed paper is now $5 above the low late August level, where it had held for more than a year.

The advance reflects increasing demand and seasonally low supplies. One trade source said that in spite of the hikes in both grades collections continued to fall short of overall demand.

Paperboard and roofing mills have been more actively seeking waste paper, reflecting expanding production. Roofing Mills earlier this month boosted their paying price for No. 1 mixed to $13 a ton.

Insurance Group Elects New Officers

Lester C. Haynes has been elected president of the Appleton post of the Travelers' Protective association, a fraternal insurance organization for professional men.

Other officers are Harold F. Hartzheim, first vice president, Norbert Glancey, second vice president, and Charles B. source said that in spite of the hikes in both grades collections continued to fall short of overall demand.

Newly-elected directors are Wilmer Saiberlich, Charles Cook, George Kloes, Alvin Anckerson and Donald Goree.

Oldsmobile Has 2 New Styles

4-Door Sports Sedan,
2-Door Coupe Now
Added to '59 Line

Details of the new 1959 Oldsmobile, including two new family-sized body styles were announced today by General Motors.

The 1959 car will feature increased passenger and luggage space, two completely new and more efficient engines, more responsive power steering, new brakes on all four wheels and a host of other engineering and accessory advancements.

The two new body styles include a sporty 4-door family size car and a 2-door coupe with exceptional visibility in all directions. Both styles will be available throughout the Oldsmobile line.

Window Treatment
An extra large, heat-resistant rear window on the coupe curves high into the roofline to give unparalleled visibility. Rear window glass area on this model measures 1,792.5 square inches. On the sedan, the rear window wraps around beneath the extended rear edge of the roof.

Total glass area in all models has been increased up to 36 per cent to give increased visibility in all directions.

Oldsmobile now has 15 body styles in its 3-series line. All models are marked by their thin rooflines. The cars have increased passenger roominess and comfort. Shoulder room has been increased over

The Oldsmobile's "linear look" for 1959 is apparent at first glance from the completely redesigned body and deck handle and the "plate-wide-spaced 4-beam head-form" top of the rear bump-lamps set within a full-widther in the center of which the grill of anodized aluminum, hinged, fuel-filler door is located. Optional accessories on all models include a portable radio with push button tuning, This utility transistor radio plugs into the car's electrical system when in position and operates on its own long-life batteries when out of the car. When locked in position

The glove compartment door and radio are a part of the newly balanced design of the instrument panel which places the instrument cluster directly in front of the driver for greater convenience and driving pleasure.

The new speedometer utilizes varying colors to help the driver maintain safe driving speeds. Speed is indicated by a moving band of color which is green from zero to 35 miles per hour, orange from 35 to 65 miles per hour, and red above 65 miles per hour.

In this fast-moving second half of the 20th Century, it is reassuring to know that there are still some familiar, substantial things, like Prudential's Rock of Gibraltar... things in which we and our children can place our trust from one generation to the next. Prudential, the company with the strength of Gibraltar, can help you build a better tomorrow by meeting today's family security problems with modern, 20th century solutions.

Your Prudential Agent will be happy to give your insurance program a "20th Century" review at no obligation to you. He can make sure that your policies are arranged to provide maximum benefits for your family. He may even be able to suggest ways to make your present insurance more valuable and save money for you.
